Truman Message Indicates He Is 1948 Candidate

Political Consensus In Washington Sees Truman As Seeking Four Years More

CONGRESS MESSAGE REVEALS PLATFORM

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Truman is a candidate today for another four years in the White House upon a platform designed to brush off Henry Agard Wallace and reunite the old elements of Roosevelt's victorious New Deal.

Platform Enunciated
Mr. Truman enunciated his platform with crystal clarity in his State of the Union message to Congress. He proposed a ten year crusade for the financial and physical betterment of the average American. In short, he sought the support of the "common man," whose votes put the Roosevelt New Deal into the White House four consecutive times.

The Republican opposition was quick to counter-attack. It may well be the coming Presidential campaign will be fought out on a Republican charge that Mr. Truman proposes the very type of "police state" for America that he previously condemned. They may try to beat him with his own words.

European Socialism
Some GOP spokesmen charged the President with proposing the planned economy of European Socialism and with writing a "Dear Henry, come home" letter. Others said he held out a "grab-bag for votes" and a "dragnet for voters."

Mr. Truman plainly asked election support from every class of citizens, except the well-to-do and the stockholders of rich corporations. His platform ranged from tax cuts for low income groups to decent homes for every citizen. He made special appeals for legislation benefitting special groups and special sections of the nation.

Silent on Major Point
On one major point, Mr. Truman was silent. He failed to mention the cost of all the federal aid he endorsed. GOP Chairman Taber of the House Appropriations Committee said the ten year program would cost 130 billion dollars. The President may answer some of this criticism in his annual budget message next Monday.

The President's tax cut—of $40 per person—would benefit every federal taxpayer.

The Republicans unanimously condemned Mr. Truman's plan, thereby doing it at the present session. But he made his plea for the little fellow to offset the GOP charge of "High Tax Harry."

Makes Special Appeals
Some Washington observers thought the President was turning to a coalition of the south the farm belt, the west and far west to win in 1948. However, he made special appeals for support from or-

And here we are starting the second week of the new year already. Will not be long now until Groundhog day will be the center of interest.

Building operations in some parts of the county seem to be moving right along despite weather and winter conditions.

Double holidays will be predominant this year, a glance at the calendar reveals. Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Christmas and Labor Day holiday periods will be two days affairs. And New Year's of 1949 will also be of the double holiday nature.

Food-Gambling Probe Takes Another Turn

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senate food-gambling investigators today looked into large market dealings by the government-employed wife of the brokerage "customer's man" who handled the account of Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, President Truman's physician.

It was learned that the Ferguson Senate Subcommittee, in a closed-door hearing, questioned Harry Brisker, Bache & Co. representative, and his wife, Eva, who last September 1 held 145,000 bushels of wheat on the Chicago market.

Brisker, a clerk in the petroleum purchasing division of the Navy's Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, had not been identified as a government employee in lists made public by Agriculture Secretary Anderson.

At the same time, there were these developments:

Ex-King Michael May Decide To Seek U.N. Action

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager International News Service)
LAUSANNE, Jan. 8.—Young ex-King Michael of Romania was reported today to be considering the advisability of placing before the United Nations the matter of his abdication, forced by the Communist-dominated Bucharest government.

The 26-year-old Michael, who feels definitely that he was robbed of his crown, meanwhile is pondering about how he will tell the facts concerning the abdication.

Michael spends considerable time gazing out at the snow-capped peaks of the Swiss Alps reviewing in his mind the maneuver of the Communists who ousted him against his will by threatening to have his loyal supporters imprisoned, and perhaps murdered.

Fears that this might still happen if he tells all are keeping him silent for the present. Nevertheless, he is described by members of his entourage as impatient to make his position clear.

Doomed Murderer Confesses To 13 Other Slayings

Washington Officials Astounded As Axe Slayer, Jake Bird, Tells Of Killings
WALLA WALLA, Wash., Jan. 8.—(INS)—Axe slayer Jake Bird calmly sat in his Washington state prison cell today and continued to clear up nationwide murders which have baffled police for nearly 20 years.

The Negro murderer of a Tacoma mother and daughter has not only confessed killing 13 persons, but said he may be able to clear up 10 other unsolved slayings.

Washington Prison Warden Tom Smith said:

"Bird has not admitted committing 10 more murders. He only says he may be able to shed some light on the killings."

Charles Michelson Taken By Death

Talented 'Gray Ghost' Of Roosevelt's New Deal Dies In Washington
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Charles Michelson, 78, the talented "ghost" of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal, died today in Washington.

Michelson, as publicity director of the Democratic National Committee from 1929 to 1942, masterminded much of the strategy which made the Roosevelt regime politically invulnerable.

He resigned his Democratic party post in 1942 to become a public relations consultant for the Crosley Radio corporation.

Death was attributed to a heart ailment from which Michelson had been suffering for some time.

Funeral services are to be held in Washington Sunday at 11 a. m.

Probe Savannah Plane Crash Which Caused Death Of 17

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 8.—(INS)—Statements by two survivors of a DC-3 plane crash which killed 17 persons near Savannah that the aircraft may have been "unsafe" spurred authorities today in their investigation of the disaster.

The plane, operated by Coastal Air Lines, dove into a marshland and burned yesterday with 24 passengers and two crewmen aboard. In addition to the dead nine persons were injured, three critically.

All but one of the passengers were Puerto Ricans. Among them were six women and a small girl.

The survivors who expressed belief the plane was unsafe declared at Chandler hospital in Savannah last night that they tried to get their plane fares refunded before the trip.

Stassen's Name Will Not Be Put On State Ballot

HARRISBURG, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Campaign strategist for Harold E. Stassen said today at Harrisburg the former Minnesota governor's name would not be entered in Pennsylvania preferential primary April 27.

Stassen, seeking the GOP nomination for president, met briefly today with Gov. James H. Duff at the state capital and the chief executive said he was "a fine outspoken fellow and an outstanding American."

It was understood Stassen outlined his political views to the governor.

Jay Cooke, former boss of Philadelphia's regular Republican organization and now Stassen's Pennsylvania campaign manager, said no attempt would be made to place the liberal Republican's name on the primary slate or to set up delegates to the GOP national convention at Philadelphia in June.

G.O.P. Leaders Accuse Chief Executive Of Engaging In Politics, In Message

SENATOR TAFT TO ANSWER TRUMAN

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—President Truman's proposal for a $40 individual tax cut while increasing levies on corporation profits received the "cold shoulder" in Congress today as Republican leaders pressed for enactment of their own program.

House and Senate GOP chiefs joined in accusing the chief executive of engaging in politics in a presidential year. Sen. Taft of Ohio, Republican presidential aspirant, announced he will answer Mr. Truman in a radio broadcast at 9:30 tonight.

Lack Of Enthusiasm
Even among administration stalwarts there was on the whole an unusual lack of enthusiasm for much of the president's program as outlined in his State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress.

Democratic members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee revealed that they were not convinced by the administration in formulation of Mr. Truman's tax proposals.

Rep. Doughton (D) N. C., the committee's ranking minority member, and Sen. George (D) Ga., his opposite on the Senate Finance Committee, significantly declined to comment on the tax recommendations.

Republicans, with an eye to the November presidential election, were unusually vigorous in their criticism.

To Consider Tax
Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., announced that his Ways and Means committee will meet Jan. 16 to take up his bill for a cut of five billion 600 million dollars in individual income taxes. The Knutson plan embodies a $100 increase in individual exemptions, a percentage cut, family benefits and assistance to the aged and blind.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder will be the principal witness at the opening hearing and probably will outline details of Mr. Truman's proposal.

Plan To Buy Votes
Knutson, commenting on Mr. Truman's tax program said "the president hasn't got any tax plan. It's just a plan to buy votes for $40 apiece."

Rep. Eberhart (D) Pa., a Ways and Means committee member, expressed confidence someone in his

Arabs Launch More Attacks

JERUSALEM, Jan. 8.—(INS)—One Jew was killed and four others were wounded today when Arabs attacked a bus en route between Haifa and Tel Aviv.

Earlier Arabs again attacked the Jewish Mekor Haim quarter of Jerusalem and touched off a new fierce battle in the continuing Palestine communal warfare.

Tension mounted steadily in Jerusalem. Scores of Arab and Jewish shopkeepers decided to keep their establishments closed because of the serious situation in the city.

The Arab attack on the Mekor Haim quarter was the third successive daily assault by Arabs on the area.

Both Jewish and Arab casualties were reported in the fray.

A large Arab gang made the assault and heavy firing took place in the Mekor Haim area for 40 minutes.

U. S. And Great Britain In Accord On Action For Integrity Of Greece

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The United States and Great Britain were reliably reported today to be in accord on joint action to maintain Greece's integrity should Russian satellite states recognize the Markos guerrilla government.

Officials minimized reports of plans for the establishment of a joint base at Benghazi in Tripolitania, formerly Italy colony lost to her as a result of the war. However, the possibility of establishing such a base should future conditions warrant it was not ruled out.

Not Yet Decided
Tripolitania's final disposition has not yet been decided. It is under British military rule for the time being and might be claimed as a British strategic area.

Benghazi was the base whence the first planes to bomb the Romania Ploesti oil fields in Romania took off.

Soviet Embassy Denies Rumors Stalin Is Dead

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The counselor of the Soviet embassy in London denied categorically today an unconfirmed rumor reaching Reuters' British News Agency from Switzerland that Joseph Stalin is dead.

The counselor, Nicholas Pavlov, said:

"There is absolutely nothing to rumors that Stalin is sick or dead."

Pavlov, well-known to European correspondents, formerly was the personal interpreter of Stalin and of Foreign Minister Molotov at the Kremlin.

The only source that had been given in the dispatch circulated by Reuters was an article said to have appeared in the Bern, Switzerland, newspaper Berner Tagwacht.

Morgenthau To Be Questioned In Grain Probe

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich., said today that the senate subcommittee on commodity speculation will call on former Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr., for a report on the extent of his corn market transactions.

Ferguson, committee chairman, said that if Morgenthau's transactions date back to the time he served as treasury secretary the senate group will launch a full-scale investigation.

The preliminary step, Ferguson said, will be to require Morgenthau to furnish a full list of his transactions. If all transactions were recent, Morgenthau may not be called to testify.

"I think that with Mr. Morgenthau having been a public officer and a report showing only one day of trading we will ask complete information showing how far his trading goes back."

Marshall Asks Four-Year Plan Or None At All

Warns Congress That "Whole World Hangs In Balance" Of Action Taken

HEARINGS OPEN ON HUGE AID PROGRAM

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Secretary of State Marshall told Congress in stern tones today that the "whole world hangs in the balance" on prompt approval of the four-year European aid program.

Marshall opened congressional hearings on the multi-billion dollar assistance plan which he fathered to combat Communist domination of Europe with this warning:

"In some portions of the world there is more fighting now than there was during the war. There is political instability. There are efforts to almost change the face of Europe, contrary to the interests of mankind and of civilization."

Wants Four Year Plan
The secretary bluntly asked Congress to promptly enact an adequate four-year program or none at all. He warned that "the way of life that we have known" hangs in the balance.

His warning was an impromptu addition to a prepared statement in which he promised that the administration's plan for conducting an European recovery program would not place the program "under the thumb of the state department."

Marshall, in obvious reference to the Herter plan for a government corporation to direct ERP, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee:

"There cannot be two secretaries of state."

He called the situation "critical in the extreme" and concluded:

"There is no doubt whatever in my mind that if we decide to do this we can do it successfully. The whole world hangs in the balance."

Opening the administration's fight for his plan to save western Europe from economic collapse and Communist domination, Marshall heatedly remarked:

"All Or None"

"Either undertake to meet the requirements of the problem or don't undertake it at all."

The father of the "Marshall Plan" appeared as the first government witness before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He said:

Our country is now faced with a momentous decision. If we decide that the United States is unable or unwilling effectively to aid in the reconstruction of western Europe we must accept the consequences of its collapse into the dictatorship of police states."

Will Leave War Elements
Marshall declared that if Europe is left to its own resources, the vacuum which the war created will be filled by the forces of which wars are made. America's national security will be "seriously threatened" and "we shall in effect live in an armed camp, regulated and controlled."

Marshall, after posing for photographers with U. S. Ambassador to Britain, Lewis Douglas, began his statement on this simple invitation from Committee Chairman Vandenberg (R) Mich.:

"Mr. secretary, we'll be very glad to have you proceed in your own way."

Kuter Is Slated For Board Post

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—President Truman revealed today that he will appoint Maj. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter as the new chairman of the Civilian Aeronautics board if Congress will pass legislation permitting the nomination.

The President, who already has announced that he will not reappoint James M. Landis as CAB chairman, requested a bill to permit the nomination of Kuter without affecting his military status.

Kuter is now United States representative to the International Civil Aviation organization at Montreal, Canada, a post he has held since September, 1946.

ALLEN IS NAMED

group will offer the president's program as a substitute for the GOP bill.

Eberhardt hoped that the GOP leadership will permit the House to vote on both proposals. Republican spokesmen seemed cool, however, to the suggestion which was endorsed by Doughton.

On new inflation controls, Congress is expected to sit tight for a while until it seems how the "voluntary control" legislation approved by the special session works out. If prices continue to rise, some of the mandatory controls requested by the president may be granted.

MARSHALL ASKS FOUR-YEAR PLAN OR NONE AT ALL

volving the United States' struggles with Russia.

He made it clear that he regards the plan crucial in his administration of foreign policy and the conflict between the eastern and western powers.

Stands By Decision

Marshall stood by the earlier announced decision not to set a figure for the four-year program but he insisted that it be authorized for the full term. He estimated the four-year cost at between fifteen billion 100 million dollars and seventeen billion 800 million dollars.

Other Points Made

Other points made by Marshall were:

1. The program should be put into operation by April 1 because by that time there will be a basic deterioration in the economic conditions on which the program is based.

2. The six billion 800 million dollar figure for the first 15 months is not a "generous estimate" of Europe's requirements but is based on a "searching and comprehensive investigation" of Europe's needs and America's ability to supply.

3. American assistance must be afforded on terms which do not violate the sovereignty of the European nations, each with a "long and proud history."

Appeal To Groups

Here is the Truman appeal to different groups:

To "Little Fellows": a tax cut; a plea for price controls and stand-by rationing to lessen his living costs; a request for higher levels and extended old age pensions; a demand for national health insurance; an appeal for federal aid for more schools and more school teachers at better pay; extension and strengthening of rent controls; a decent home for every family and adequate diets for every citizen.

This is the political consensus in Washington.

To farmers: a promise of better income; a pledge to modernize price supports for major farm commodities; a proposal to extend crop insurance; a plea to improve the system for marketing farm crops; better school lunch programs; more rural electrification and aid in soil conservation.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The heavy personal cost of being victimized by Communism was experienced by former King Michael in Switzerland today as he added up his fortune and found it sadly depleted indeed.

Spokesmen for the exiled ex-Romanian monarch disclosed that the Communist authorities allowed him to take out of the country only a comparatively few personal belongings including one of his many automobiles.

They told of the utmost amazement on the part of Swiss customs guards—who are entirely accustomed to fabulous wealth in transit—when they failed to find aboard Michael's special train a truly royal ransom in gold, silver and jewels.

Abandoned Much

Michael was compelled to abandon a very great deal when the Reds dethroned him.

In exchange, of course, he receives comparative freedom and an extremely attractive princess. Yet he must think ruefully about the huge wealth he had to leave behind.

Romania is regarded as a poor country. Yet its ruler, the House of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, never were satisfied with anything less than expansive best.

This family trait was emphasized by Frederick the Great of Prussia, who built Potsdam and its myriad palaces around the fantastically beautiful Sans Souci.

No Less Lavish

Some of Frederick's descendants may have lacked his fine artistic hand. But the later Hohenzollerns were no less lavish.

They strewed Germany with palaces, hunting lodges, vast personal parks and private preserves. Kingship in that clan meant power and prerogatives that were never overlooked.

Similarly Bucharest, mainly because of its rich crown property, came to be known as the "Paris of the East."

Named for the Romanian word which means "pleasure," the city was developed regally by Michael and his forbears.

The winter palace of Cotroceni is a European treasure trove and Sinaia is the lush countryside might have crystallized from a fairytale.

Worth 50 Millions

In real estate alone—to say nothing of priceless Goyas and other paintings and the crown jewels—Michael's possessions at home probably were worth a resounding fifty millions of dollars.

There also was the small matter of a 50 thousand dollar town house in London's swank Cadogan Square, which doubtless now reverts to the Communist government, plus Michael's gleaming private airplane, a fleet of automobiles all colors of the rainbow and probably a luxurious yacht or two.

Whether for love or political expediency, Michael has sacrificed a kingly treasure of which there are precious few left in this harsh and rigid world.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN YOU SHOULD SAY 'PLEASE'

Most of us parents should be more courteous to our children than we are.

Let us practice using "please" when we ask the child two, twelve or twenty to do something we wish him to do. We also should say "please" when we ask the child over five or six not to do certain things in our absence, as when he is at school (since we cannot check objectively in order to make a command effective). Moreover, let us make "please" truly meaningful when we use it, not shifting almost in the same breath to "You must do it." I discuss this matter quite at length in my bulletin, "Stubbornness" (to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, N. Y.).

New Situations

Also in many new situations which have never arisen before, when we are not serious, at a time when we are very sure the child will comply, we ought to say "please."

But when the child, especially the young child, is doing in our presence something he knows very well he should not do, "please" is out of place. And how absurd to shout "please" in anger.

Of her strong-willed son, four and one-half, the eldest of three children, the mother writes:

"I can ask him please not to do a certain thing and his answer always is, 'But Mother, I want to.' Then I'll proceed to tell him that Mother doesn't want him to, and that nice big boys would mind their mothers. Still no obedience. But when I leave my work and start toward him, he is up and away immediately. I have spanked him anyway, and he seemed to feel so wronged, says he was quitting, 'won't be.' He just will not mind me if he is five feet away from me. And what can I do?"

Asked Politely

Substantially here is how I answered her. Having asked that child politely to quit doing something in your presence, expect him to choose whether to accede to your wish or not. If you are sure it is something he should not do or repeat and sure a mere "please" would not deter him, you had better not say "please" at all. Merely command him to stop. If he does not stop after you have commanded him once to stop, still your tongue, seize him suddenly, turn him over your knee, bare his legs just above his knees and apply your bare flat hand with several smacks. Say nothing more. Go about your work and let him cry.

Be Consistent

If you will be consistent and will waste no words he will soon respect your command. Your trouble is that you fool around and explain and argue and warn and threaten, growing angrier all the while and the youngster growing more demoralized. Then when he sees you make a dash for him, he quits the forbidden act, considering you (Continued on Page Six)

Hints On Etiquette

Modern hostesses do not ask house guests for an indefinite stay. Invitations read, usually, "on such-and-such a week end, Friday to Monday, or Sunday," or "for the week of such and such a time," and the guest is expected to take his or her departure at that time, or risk oversteering his welcome.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Do you enjoy a hobby? If you don't then you should have something that you can call your hobby so that you can enter it. A third seriously, there should be something in your life that you can consider a hobby. Some men like to collect stamps. . . and those who do seem to give a great deal of time to the pursuit of a special little piece of paper with fancy edges and glue on one side. Collecting stamps goes further than just obtaining the little sticker. . . those who really enjoy the hobby go into the history portion and what weird stories they tell about this and that stamp of ancient vintage.

Maybe you think of a hobbyist as one who goes flitting over the country side in the summer with a butterfly net in one hand and a chloroform soaked piece of cotton in the other. . . attempting to capture a rare moth. This type of hobbyist is of course one of the earliest types. . . but more or less on the eccentric side. . . today a man or woman with a hobby doesn't necessarily need to be eccentric. . . of course that is just our opinion.

We like to get down in the cellar with a few woodworking tools and create something. . . the little woman says that what we create is not of much value. . . but we always have that hope in mind that someday something of value will be created and then all the misses will be forgotten. According to Fortune Magazine. . . thousands of men throughout the USA enjoy workshop hobbies. . . and millions of dollars each year are spent on woodworking tools. . . handpowered and electric motor powered. Here in New Castle there is now running an adult school class on woodworking. . . some fifteen young business and professional men are attending. . . and we might say. . . having the time of their lives.

And of course you find the chap who has a very unusual hobby. . . one we know. . . gathers spare time. . . and after he has twelve hours on his time book he takes to his room and just sits down. . . relaxes and lets the world slip by without thinking about taxes or anything else.

Wallace Protest Vote Futile

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The old saying about history repeating itself is wide of the mark. While the drama on the world stage seems often to be a repeat, there are variations which make the result something quite different. 1924 was a year that had many surfaces similar to 1948. The idealism of that other war had been replaced by isolationism. We were never going to be taken in again by the intrigues of the old world. Europe called us Uncle Shylock. The two old political parties were like tweedledum and tweedledee, so fat and contented that you could not tell one from the other. But beneath the surface, protest and resentment boiled.

Exploited By Wallace

Today it is this same resentment and protest that Henry Wallace seeks to exploit. There is the same sense of idealism betrayed. Many promises gone aglimmering. Many people feel frustrated, insecure, unhappy in our rushing materialistic society, a vote for Wallace is one way of expressing that frustration and unhappiness. Added up, those votes will make a substantial total. The Wallace total will be important in those states—New York, California, Illinois and Michigan—with a large city population and a high proportion of Negroes, many of them only recently come to the north with a new awareness of the problems of their race. And these are the pivotal states in the presidential contest.

Some Predictions

James A. Hagerty, veteran political reporter for the New York Times, expressed the view that he did not see how the Democrats can carry New York state in view of the minimum of 200,000 to 250,000 votes Wallace will poll there. From California comes a similar prediction.

In 1924, Robert M. La Follette, Sr., ran for president on a third party ticket. He polled 5,000,000 votes and carried one state—Wisconsin. The Republican victory was guaranteed well in advance of election day.

But there are major differences between La Follette in '24 and Wallace in '48. (Without any weasels words, La Follette repudiated the communists who wanted to ride on his coat-tails.)

As Edward N. Doan tells the story in his recently published "The La Follettes and the Wisconsin Idea," a convention of Farmer-Laborites dominated by communists was to be held in St. Paul and they proposed to endorse La Follette. La Follette spoke out.

Communists Enter
"The communists have admitted entry into this political movement not for the purpose of curing."

Now a word about mail from readers in general.

All of us columnist receives a lot of so-called fan mail.

We love it, because it makes us realize that we are read and that what we write has made an impression on our correspondents.

We welcome criticism as well as praise.

If everybody agreed with us our writings would, indeed, be monotonous.

In a free country one of the greatest privileges is disagreement and the freedom to express your disagreement fearlessly and openly.

But there are two kinds of letters I despise.

The first kind is from the anonymous writer. He usually insults you and is too cowardly to do it openly. That kind of writer is like the Klu Klux Klan, whose members hide their cowardice in bed sheets and hoods.

My second aversion is the writer who tells me how to conduct my life.

One woman threatened to cancel her subscription to her paper in which my column appears unless I stopped "smoking my stinky pipe."

Another person chastised me severely for having mentioned that I took a drink occasionally.

I should set an example to others, she wrote, and by admitting (Continued on Page Six)

Bible Thought

When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee; when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flames kindle upon thee.—Isa. 43:2.

Here's Frightening Thought

By PAUL GALLICO

You may not have felt this, but to me there is something just a little frightening in the thought of the hoard of pre-popular music, songs, ballads, croonings, torch-cries, laments, comic numbers, etc., that has been laid up in the vaults of the record-makers to await the coming of the day and the devious processes that will make them popular and desired.

Yowlings and wailings and sighings and carolings, moo-moo-moos and boo-boo-boos. There they lie in the dark vaults, the as-yet unloved disks that have been rushed into being to meet the deadline of manufacture decreed by Boss Petrillo, while that strange figure croaks the supposed requiem of the business-like Poe's raven—"Never-never-never, nevermore!"

A Cappella Chanting?

It would be even more dour and dramatic if one believed that the voices of the nation's minstrels had been stilled forever instead of merely being used as pawns to threaten on the chessboard of business. One could then dwell sadly on the ever-windling supply of melodies, the disks doled out one by one from the lock-boxes of the proprietors until that awful day when the last one was spent, the last thrush hushed, the final wail evoked from scraping rosin-covered horsehair across catgut stilled forever, the juke box machines giving forth nothing but recitations, and Crosby, Sinatra, Como, Torme & Co. chanting a cappella.

Gigantic Deal In Making

But it is not so. A gigantic deal is on or in the making whereby Boss Petrillo will wring some of the vast gains of the juke box and record and radio companies so that more of their coins will clink into the pockets of musicians or the till of their Union, and whether this is right or wrong, time only will tell. But in the meantime the exigencies of the struggle have exposed a rather fearful-looking nerve to public view, one that had better have been left covered, namely, how popular is a popular melody, and who makes it popular? I thought it was you and me and our tastes that were the arbiters. But the boys have already recorded our decisions for the next six months. This comes as a great shock.

How Popularity Is Achieved

I suppose no one has the right to be so naive as to believe that people place the stamp of approval or popularity upon a melody, a band, a song, a singer, an arrangement, or a combination of all of them, or to adhere to the fable that a sad, gay or wistful tune strikes a chord in all of us, that overnight a hit is born and in reward we shower fortune upon its inventor. Instead it would seem that there is considerable calculation, pressure, scheming and smart-guy-ism involved in the program of convincing us about what we like.

Battle Labor Dictator

True, the record companies are in a battle and are defending themselves against the arrogance of a modern labor dictatorship, and so they load themselves up with pre-canned music to keep us quiet until the fight is either won or lost, but the mystery of what noises they have engraved on their platters in the last minute rush to get under the wire remains menacing rather than intriguing. We are not to retain even the semblance of making a choice of what we would or would not like to hear. It has all been made for us. And we are free people.

Element Of Freshness Sacrificed

The element of freshness has been sacrificed. Will I enjoy in May what has been recorded in December? I doubt it. For while I am listening to the musical decisions of yesterday I must always be conscious of the little lost lilt born of today's fresh new tunes set to gay or impudent verses of the moment that I will never hear because the artists have been forbidden to record them, and even if the ban is lifted the publishers will be more interested in unloading the overstock.

I am glad that my friend Jack Kapp of Decca has decided against this cockpicking. "It's a good and brave gamble, Johnny. You'll be the friend and midwife to all the new and unborn songs. . . ."

DETROIT—UAW President Reuther, charging "political hypocrisy" on living costs: "Both Republicans and Democrats are playing fast and loose with the welfare of the people. . . . To see which party can win more votes on the inflation issue without doing anything about it."

CHICAGO—Vivien Kellems industrialist and crusader for feminine rights, urging the repeal of the federal income tax: "We chucked our proven system of taxation out of the window and passed the income tax. Gone was our uniformity. . . . and our fundamental American rights."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Taylor (D) Idaho, debating whether or not to run as vice-president with Henry Wallace: "I've been convinced the present bi-partisan foreign policy would lead to war before the next elections, I'd take the plunge."

State Police Say:

You don't have to drive a mile a minute to be a speeder. You can speed at 16 miles an hour as easily as you can at 60. Driving "too fast for conditions" may be deemed to be speeding. City streets, school zones, congested areas, rain, snow, a quick freeze are only a few conditions which contribute to the danger of high speed. If you drive at a speed greater than consistent with prevailing conditions, you are trusting your life to pure blind luck.

If President Truman's suggestion for a price penalty on marketing hogs above 220 pounds becomes effective it may yet be that the streamlined Ozarks razorback will be the ideal in porter aristocracy.—Anthon, Iowa, Herald.

TOJO'S FACE—AND OURS

It is hard to get a clear picture of the situation in occupied Japan. Too few experts on that strange country are reporting on it, and the experts themselves are not in entire agreement. But several recent incidents raise the question whether General MacArthur has not been too optimistic in his appraisal of Japanese repentance and reform.

An international tribunal is now trying Gen. Hideki Tojo, whose rise to the premiership was followed only seven weeks later by the attack on Pearl Harbor. If he is convicted as a war criminal, Tojo will probably stretch hemp. Meanwhile, the United States seems to be losing face.

Tojo, one reporter avers, has been replying to the prosecutor in phraseology reserved by the Japanese for addressing inferiors. Translators have been covering up for him by toning down his insolence, but word will undoubtedly leak out to the Japanese people. His manner has been contemptuous.

Tojo was smoothly evasive of attempts to get him to admit being involved with the Japanese Army's tactics of political assassination that put the war party in power. He was a soldier, he said, not a politician.

He indicated that Japan joined the axis in order to keep the United States out of the war. He said his party feared communism and substituted the "spiritual" values of war and one-party leadership for the "materialism" of peace and republican government.

Meanwhile Emperor Hirohito, who traditionally writes one New Year's poem to inspire his people, broke with precedent to compose two this year. Both were, as usual, metaphorical and allusive. But the first seemed to say "Ride out the storm," the second, "Trouble will never change us."

The United States isn't likely to gain face from this incident, either.

AIRLINES IN THE RED

Scheduled airlines in the United States did the biggest business in their history in 1947, according to the Air Transport Association, but they lost money. High operating costs are blamed.

This record doesn't look too encouraging as it is doubtful whether operating costs will decrease. It seems to indicate that the airlines are destined to go deeper into the hole the more business they do. But the picture probably is not that black. It is reasonable to believe that the growth in business is a hopeful sign.

The ATA review shows, for instance, that international operations paid in 1947. The increase in air freight carried to and from foreign countries is estimated at 126.9 per cent and the number of passengers flown rose to 1,425,000, an increase of 36 per cent.

Domestic freight carried by air rose 112 per cent, but passenger traffic was only 8 per cent greater than in 1946. Had domestic lines increased their passenger business as much as international lines did, the result might have been a profit.

The figures, at any rate, contain a hint that the airlines will improve their position when they approach nearer to a solution of the safety problem. The fatality rate for all operations fell from 3.54 per 100,000,000 passenger miles to 1.08 in 1947—but it rose from 1.24 in 1946 to 3.21 on domestic routes.

More people will fly when they can travel by air with more confidence that they can arrive at their destination.

'HIDING' MONEY AT HOME

After holiday robberies, in which jewelry and other treasured gifts have been stolen, point up the necessity of precautions by householders and the importance of keeping valuables, particularly money, in safe places.

It has been a sad Yuletide for an Eastern woman and her daughter whose life savings, about $6000 in cash, jewelry and securities, were stolen from a hiding place in their home.

But why did they keep their valuables there "folded among sheets in a cedar chest"? There have been other robberies during the last six months—all of them warnings that money and negotiable securities should never be secreted in houses or apartments.

Such secrets are hard to keep, for one thing, but a pertinacious thief can easily discover such a hoard even if he has no advance information regarding it.

There is certainly no basis for any "distrust of banks" which impels some people to keep their money in their homes—not in these days of Federal Deposit Insurance. The moderate charge made for safety deposit boxes is a cheap insurance against the kind of loss this mother and daughter are now mourning.

Home-hoarding is unwise. It puts a premium on robbery, and even without that danger there is always the peril of fire which may cause as complete a loss as that suffered at the hands of thieves.

Usually when you hear a remark that success is always due to good luck, you will find that the person who makes the remark isn't successful.

The World and the Mud Puddles

AN ABSURD CONDITION

In fairness to the railroads of the country and the shippers who depend on them for transportation, Congress should pass the Bulwinkle-Reed Bill, clarifying the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission and relieving the carriers from penalties for following the rulings of the Commission. A former bill, practically similar in content and known as the Bulwinkle Bill, was passed by the House in the last session by a vote of 227 to 45, but was lost in the Senate in the log-jam of the final hours of the session.

Ever since 1887, the Interstate Commerce Commission has exercised authority over the roads, fixing freight and passenger rates, prescribing service and even passing on certain types of expenditures. The Commission was established to curb certain evils resulting from unfair competition among the roads and to create uniformity in rates for the benefit of the shipper. It has performed this function well and in the public interest. In order that the Commission may exercise intelligence and justice in its rulings, it has been customary to have the representative carriers confer on rate and service matters with the Interstate Commerce Commission. Never until about three years ago has this established practice been questioned.

Suspicion Of Politics

The Department of Justice suddenly decided that the railroads, in following the orders of the Commission to reach uniformity in the matters of rates and service, were violating the anti-trust laws, and filed suits against forty-five rail lines. The suit, brought at a time when radical influences dominated the national administration, is open to strong suspicion of being purely political—an effort to curry favor with certain elements hostile to "corporations."

The effect of emasculating the established authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission, of course, would be to bring about a recurrence of the condition which brought the Commission into being. It would prove of no benefit to the shippers; on the contrary, it would bring him nothing but uncertainty and demoralization of service. It would bring chaos to the field of railroad management, which would have to operate with an eye on the courts and Congress, instead of under an experienced, non-political and impartial body.

The Bulwinkle-Reed Bill gives no unfair privileges to the railroads, and no exemption from any actual violations of the anti-trust laws. It does, however, clarify their positions under the Interstate Commerce laws and assures the Commission that its labors will not be nullified or wasted. Congress should pass the Bill—and the President should sign it.

Doctors Oppose National Health Plan By Truman

American Medical Association Is Concluding Convention In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The American Medical association prepared to adjourn its interim meeting in Cleveland today after renewing its previously-stated objections to a national health insurance program.

The A.M.A. was quick at hitting at President Truman's proposal to Congress yesterday that health insurance be removed from its present voluntary status and included in a federally-supervised program.

Anderson Speaks

Last night the gathering of approximately 3,000 of the nation's doctors heard Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson enlarge on the President's proposals particularly as they would apply to rural areas.

Anderson denied the A.M.A. assertion that voluntary health insurance programs as conducted on a local community and state basis are adequate to meet the needs of the American people. He said: "Prepayment plans for surgical and other medical services offered by state and county medical societies have today reached less than one per cent of country people."

Need Country Doctors

Earlier, Dr. E. L. Henderson, of Louisville, Ky., speaking for the A.M.A.'s officers and board of trustees, said that "already 20,000,000 Americans are protected against the costs of hospitalization through the Blue Cross."

Anderson asked the doctors to help in expanding medical facilities in rural areas and urged young physicians to enter the country fields where "the opportunity is better now than it will be in the future."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Just a kind of tormentor. No better way to make him disobedient. But if he knew that you were decisive and meant exactly what you said in the first place, it should not be very hard for him to obey promptly. Practiced in such obedience when he is within your reach he soon will obey you at any distance within your sight.

When he really learns that you never lie when you say NO but that your word is wholly dependable, he may be ready to profit from chair-sitting for punishment (for exactly 20 minutes), when you can partly or wholly abandon spanking. Be very generous with genuine affection and approvals when that child is good, which is most of the time.

FUNERAL DIRECTOR DIES

GREENVILLE, Pa., Jan. 8.—(INS)—Funeral services will be held today for H. Alfred Taylor, 55, funeral director in Greenville since 1912. Taylor died Tuesday after a short illness.

COWS AND FLIES

In summer time cows use up a lot of energy fighting flies. By using DDT dairymen find that the cows give more milk. They are more comfortable. They use their time more profitably than when they have to chase flies away.

Flies are a problem on the farm. They are not so much trouble in the city since the horse has gone. Mosquitoes and roaches and bugs can't stand DDT very long. People are like cows. When they are comfortable and contented they do better work.

Cleanliness and sanitation help a lot.

Fire Losses Reach $700,000,000 In '47

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Fire losses in the U. S. reached an appalling all-time high $700,000,000 last year.

Flames ate up millions of bushels of grain which might have gone to Europe's needy in scattered conflagrations.

The domestic housing supply was set back when fire destroyed a $1,000,000 factory in Austin, Tex., that was turning out 400 prefabricated dwellings a month.

The national board of fire underwriters estimates that in 1947 there were 33 blazes that involved $1,000,000 damages or more.

Greatest of the year's fire disasters was the ammonium nitrate explosions at Texas City in April. More than 600 died; 3,000 were injured, and property losses hit $32,000,000.

The Maine forest fires in October resulted in property losses estimated by the underwriters at $6,000,000 at Bar Harbor and $2,000,000 at Kennebunkport.

An Oil tanker explosion in Los Angeles harbor in June provided the third greatest of the year's fire disasters.

The tanker, six berths and two warehouses were destroyed with damage estimated at $10,000,000 before it was controlled.

LOOKING AT LIFE

that I drink I lead thousands of other people to drink, she said.

But worst of all is the writer who tries to force his or her religious beliefs on me and who seems to think that anyone who does not share his or her own interpretation of religion is headed straight for the devil.

For instance, just this morning came a letter from a man who does not believe in Christ.

"Other great teachers, long before his era taught those same virtues," he writes. "Thus he merely repeated what others long before him taught."

"As a well-read newspaperman you must be aware of this. If you are not, then you are ill equipped to handle such a column as yours."

I don't care what you believe in. I don't care whether you are Jew or Gentile, Protestant, Catholic, Methodist or Presbyterian.

To me religion means only one thing: By its teachings and particularly by feeling it in your heart, your life will be a happier and a fuller life.

ADDRESSING CLERGYMAN AND WIFE

QUESTION: I have a friend who married a clergyman. When I send letters to them, should they be addressed "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" or "Reverend and Mrs. Smith"? I know both well enough to call them by their Christian names.

ANSWER: The Reverend and Mrs. John Smith. "Reverend Smith" is incorrect without the insertion of his Christian names.

QUESTION: When a child is invited to a party, should the mother, who must take the child, go in with her and remain for the party?

ANSWER: She should take the child to the door, leave her and call for her when it is time for the party to end. She should not go in and stay, unless previously invited to do so by the small hostess' mother.

QUESTION: What is the usual tip for paging in a large hotel lobby?

ANSWER: Twenty-five cents.

QUESTION: My daughter-in-law calls me "Mrs. Roberts." Should I sign myself that way in letters to her?

ANSWER: Sign letters to her "Mary Roberts" or whatever your full name is. Never sign yourself "Mrs. Roberts."

QUESTION: Is the expression "Aren't I" correct?

ANSWER: According to grammarians, this is an error of grammar. "Am I not" is the only correct form and there is no contraction for this expression. However, since "Am I not" is somewhat difficult for little children, mothers frequently teach them to say "Aren't I" to avoid the possibility of the vulgarism "ain't."

ally about disarmament, he was talking into a complete vacuum. When Wallace talks the same way, he is in reality talking against any practical hope of a stable world order. With his cries for perfection and against war and any racial segregation, he is serving the cause of the intriguers who want to produce breakdown in this country.

That is a fact which should make those who feel like voting for Wallace, merely out of angry protest, stop and think a moment. That kind of protest is worse than futile. It is a reckless abuse of the privilege of the ballot. There is no justification in 1948 for the kind of protest vote that La Follette rolled up in 1924.

BACKACHE,
LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

These kidneys are Nature's chief waste-taking organs. They filter out excess acids and poisons from the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Stassen Declares
Taxes Can Be Cut

Scoffs At Claims 'We Cannot Aid Europe If We Cut Taxes'

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Former Minnesota Governor Harold E. Stassen on Wednesday branded "absolutely incorrect" statements that taxes cannot be cut if the U. S. aids Europe.

The avowed Republican Presidential candidate also scoffed at claims that "if we cut taxes we cannot aid Europe."

Stassen told the Locust Club in Philadelphia that the nation's "present high rate of production, business activity and income" should be adequate to allow for "world reconstruction and also a three billion dollar cut in taxes."

"Our present tax structure would yield 45 billion dollars of income to the government in 1948," Stassen said.

"This estimate is due not only to the large income but also to the fact that tax deductions for old losses and for depreciations have been almost completely filled in and a greater portion of income is now available for taxation."

Stassen pointed out, however, that only through adoption of a "sound budget" could we cut taxes and yet aid Europe.

He proposed tax cuts "particularly in the excess wartime level for income taxes, and some special cut for small business taxes."

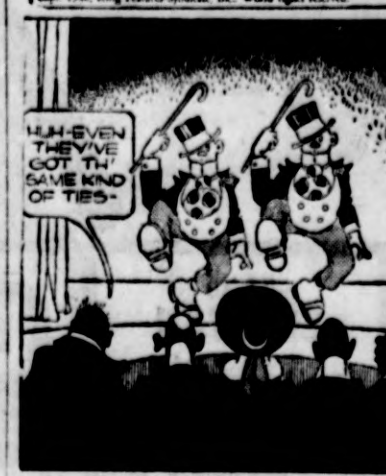

Stassen Lunches
With Gov. Duff

HARRISBURG, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor seeking the Republican presidential nomination, is scheduled to meet Gov. James H. Duff and local GOP leaders during a luncheon today at Harrisburg.

The meeting was arranged by his Pennsylvania manager, Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia. Invitations were sent to 150 influential Republicans in the Harrisburg area, including State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor.

The meeting will mark the Minnesota's fourth appearance in Pennsylvania since announcing his candidacy. He has spoken at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and in Bucks county.

TIMBER OPERATORS
ASK HIGHER PRICES

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 8.—(INS)—Tri-state timber operators today asked coal mine operators for higher prices to offset increased wage demands of 11,000 striking timbermen, sawmill workers and drivers.

A six-man committee was named by the Tri-State Lumbermen's association to approach mine operators, the larger coal operators to be contacted first.

The association rejected a 28 1/2 per cent wage increase demanded by the United Construction Workers, an affiliate of the United Mine Workers, declaring the raise can not be forthcoming until timber operators receive more money for their product.

Bedding Production
For 1948 Stalemate

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Bedding manufacturers joined today with other household appliance dealers in predicting that production bottlenecks will keep furnishings in short supply this year.

Joseph Sammons, president of the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, declared that bedding production in 1948 "probably will not surpass the 1947 level."

His prediction was made in a speech at the annual Mid-Winter

Home Furnishings Market in Chicago.

Previously, six leaders in the home appliance industry forecast continued shortages in refrigerators, washing machines, stoves and kitchen utensils.

Long distance television transmission was first successfully demonstrated more than 20 years ago.

Most of the fighting during the Middle Ages was done by armed knights on horseback. The lower classes were hardly allowed to fight during a war. ## State Capitol See Taylor As Target Again

Draft Eisenhower League
Has Earmarks Of Attack
On Regular G.O.P.

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Initial organization activities of the Pennsylvania Draft Eisenhower league has all the earmarks of a renewed attack on the regular GOP headed by State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor. The tipoff was the appointment of Mrs. Helen U. Loewen of Harrisburg, a Dauphin county Republican leader who split from the party last October. The so-called new guard, headed by William Harmon of Philadelphia, apparently is attempting to strike at Taylor through Mrs. Loewen and her dentist-husband, Dr. James K. Loewen, a former Taylor aide who walked out of the party with his wife. The Harmon group before has allied disgruntled party regulars. Such tactics were employed when the faction unsuccessfully espoused the candidacy of John U. Shroyer, Shamokin dress manufacturer and ousted highways secretary, during the 1946 gubernatorial campaign.

The league's appointment of Rep. Fernand Thomas (R) Washington, as executive director was tantamount to a declaration of attack on George Bloom of Washington, adviser of U. S. Sen. Edward Martin and political powerhouse in western Pennsylvania. A state committee eventually will be set up followed possibly by appointment of local leaders to spearhead instruction of regular party lines. The new guard hopes to gain sufficient support for Eisenhower to swing itself into power with the Republican party.

The capitol park which forms a lawn stretching south of the state house is dotted with trees native to Pennsylvania and a number of imports, but lacks a representative of the commonwealth's tree, the hemlock. There are plenty of oaks, maples, dogwood and others plus some Japanese trees, but only a scattering of coniferous varieties.

Death and the 1947 elections have taken a heavy toll of senators serving during last year's session of the General Assembly. Three Democratic senators resigned at the end of the year to assume county offices won at the polls. They are Sens. William S. Raubser, Allegheny county's new district attorney; Carleton T. Woodring, Allegheny county judge; and W. J. Lane, Washington county commissioner. Harold Risser of Lebanon R. D. recently was sworn in as Republican senator from Lebanon and Lancaster counties, succeeding Clarence D. Becker, who died in October. In the house, Reps. Walter Rose of Johnstown, a Republican, and Felix Bentz of York, a Democrat, resigned to become mayors. Vacancies exist as a result of the election of former Speaker Franklin H. ## Chicago Man Will Be College Speaker

Dr. Harry Hager To Speak At Westminster Spiritual Emphasis Week

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 8.—Dr. Harry Hager, pastor of the Bethany Reformed church of Chicago, has been named speaker for Spiritual Emphasis Week services at Westminster college, Feb. 15-22.

Dr. W. J. Harper McKnight, college pastor and dean of men, who is in charge, announces that all normal college social affairs for the week will be suspended.

Dr. Hager, a former president of the general synod of the Reformed church, spoke here last year and made a favorable impression. He will speak at the two daily chapel services and at special evening services.

A number of infants, children of married veterans at Westminster college, will be baptized in the chapel of Westminster college Sunday evening, according to Dr. W. J. Harper McKnight, college pastor. This will be the first time in the history of the college that such a service has been held.

Baron Hans De Meiss-Teffen, explorer and lecturer, will speak at morning and afternoon chapel services Monday at Westminster college. While here, he will speak to the Rotary club.

Dr. Robert Foster, a missionary to India, who is furloughing here, showed movies of India at the Westminster college chapel services Wednesday.

The bookstore at Westminster college has been moved from Old Main to the new recreation hall, one of three government surplus buildings erected near the Conservatory of Music.

The bookstore section is the first to be installed in the recreation hall which will later have a lunch room with booths and recreational facilities. An 11-room infirmary is now in operation in one of the buildings while an art studio has been installed in the other.

Senator Martin Assails Message

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Sen. Edward Martin, former governor of Pennsylvania, said Wednesday that President Truman's State of the Union message "looks like a political document."

"I had hoped this session would be one looking for the interests of America rather than to political issues," Martin declared. The ex-Pennsylvania chief executive termed the President's tax proposal the "most political" issue of the message.

"What we need now," he added, "to defeat inflation at fair prices is more goods at lower costs. The proposal is a magician's slight-of-hand act. In the end the consumer pays the bill."

Hellinger Estate Set At $300,000

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Probate records revealed the bulk of film producer Mark Hellinger's $300,000 estate went to his widow, former Ziegfeld Follies girl, Gladys Glad.

Upon the widow's death, $10,000 is to be paid from the trust to establish the Monroe Hellinger Scholastic Fund at Cornell University in memory of his brother. The remainder of the trust is to be divided between his two adopted children, Mark Jr. and Gladys, both 6. The will directed that Hellinger's body be entombed in a mausoleum "adjacent to the Hudson river," near Manhattan, where his newspaper career began.

During World War I numbers of British troops were infected with anthrax carried on shaving brushes imported from Japan.

State Forester Resigns Position

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Jan. 8.—(INS)—William F. Dague, widely known Pennsylvania forester, has resigned as district forester of Moshannon State Forest No. 9, after 30 years service.

Dague watched the reserve grow from a small grove to a huge state forest embracing more than 35,000,000 trees. Back in 1896 Dague could walk from his headquarters on his inspection rounds but in the intervening years 334 miles of roads were hard-surfaced. The present forestry staff includes five forest rangers, two forest inspectors, seven observation stations and 135 fire wardens and their crews.

Praying hands.
"He... giveth to all life, and breath, and all things."—Acts 17:25.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 11 is Isaiah 40:28-31; Matthew 6:9; John 8:14; Acts 17:22-31, the Memory Verse being Acts 17:25. He... giveth to all life, and breath, and all things.)

What do we know about God? We know Him through His wonderful works in nature; in the goodness in men, and above all through Jesus Christ, who for the first time called Him Our Father. Are there any more inspiring and life-giving words in the world than those uttered by Isaiah, many years before Christ came to the earth, and when Isaiah was prophesying His coming? "Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of His understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might He increaseth strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall. But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles, they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

Young middle-aged and old persons all grow weary at times and feel they cannot go on with their many tasks. At such times, if they are quiet for a time, and pray for God's strength, it will come to them, and they too shall "run and not be weary," and "walk and not faint."

How to Pray
From the Sermon on the Mount we quote what Jesus said about our prayers to our Father in Heaven. First, He said that if we prayed in secret, God would reward us openly. And after this manner, therefore, pray ye: "Our Father, which art in Heaven, Hallowed be Thy name." Our Father, you see—Father to every one of us. Even those close to Jesus, who were with Him day after day, seemed not to realize how near they were to the Father while He was with them. Not until His death and resurrection did they realize it. John tells us that Philip said to Jesus: "Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us." Jesus was grieved and answered him, "Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known Me, Philip? he that hath seen Me hath seen the Father, and how sayest thou then, shew us the Father?"

He promised them also that if they believed this that they would do great works—"And greater works than these (that He had done) shall He do; because I go to the Father." This was on the very last night that Jesus was with them on earth. Now we come to a scene some years later, when Paul was spreading the Gospel of Jesus in many lands. People were troubled because there was a rumor that there was another king than Caesar, namely a person named Jesus. The brethren had sent Paul from Thessalonica to Athens, famous city which was considered the seat of knowledge and learning, because they feared for his safety. In Athens he had disputed with the Jews in the synagogue and "certain philosophers" brought him to the Areopagus, and asked him to tell them of this new gospel. Paul on Mars' Hill "Paul stood 'in the midst of Mars' Hill," and addressed them. "Ye men of Athens," he began, and then went on to tell them that as he entered the city, he had noticed an altar erected to "the unknown god." "Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, Him declare I unto you," he said. God made the world and all things therein, and "seeing that He is Lord of Heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands." "Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though He needed anything, seeing He giveth to all life, and breath, and all things. And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation. For in Him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain of your own poets have said. For we are also His offspring. And as we are the offspring of God, we should not think of God as 'like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device'—such as the statues of men and gods abounding in Athens. God is Love, we are His children, and He our Father. (Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW HUDSON CAR
Is Well Received

Castle Garage, Local Dealers, Is Pleased With Reception Here Of New Hudson

The new Hudson has been enthusiastically received by the people who have viewed it, reports R. S. Rubenson of the Castle Garage, local Hudson dealer, located at 217 N. Mill street.

"The new Hudson was made possible as the result of recognition by Hudson engineers of the fact that, if the American-made car is to give its owner the beauty and stability advantages found in low-built automobiles, and still maintain interior comfort and headroom, a wholly new approach would have to be devised, tested, proved and put into mass production," Mr. Rubenson said.

He listed the following as significant developments:

- "The new Hudson has a lower center of gravity than any other American automobile."
- "It is only five feet from the ground to its top."
- "It provides more headroom than any other mass-produced automobile."
- "It is a car which upon entering, you step down into, not up on."
- "It has the roomiest seats."
- "It really cradles passengers between the axles."

The new Hudson, Mr. Rubenson added, is powered by a new Super-Six engine, the most powerful six cylinder engine built today, and an improved Super-Eight engine. Many of the new 1948 models are now on display.

In the 15th century the ringing of church chimneys became general in North Germany, Holland and Belgium. Belgium being especially famed for its bell ringing.

Government For Western Germany Proposal Is Made
By TOM AGOSTON (U.S. Staff Correspondent)
FRANKFURT, Jan. 8.—United States and British military authorities on Wednesday proposed establishment of a virtual western German government to function under joint Anglo-American supervision. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor and Lieut. Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, his British counterpart, announced agreement on the new bi-zonal regime. While lacking "political teeth" the regime nevertheless would be a German affair. The Clay-Robertson proposals also embraced:

- 1—Election of a German upper house to legislate for what is known as Bizonia.
- 2—Appointment of a cabinet.
- 3—Establishment of a Central Bank for the two zones with powers to issue new currency under military government orders.

The plans call for a joint Anglo-American "Shaf" to keep a close eye on all undertakings of the German government and of the legislative and financial branches to be created.

PAYMENTS TO VETERANS

Sesqui-Meeting To Advance Plans

Mayor Calls Meeting Of Committee At City Hall, Wednesday January 14

Plans for the sesqui-centennial celebration for New Castle in July 1948 will be advanced Wednesday, January 14 at a meeting in city hall. Letters have gone out to a large number of citizens advising them of the meeting and asking their attendance.

A celebration such as a sesqui-centennial is not a job for a few people. It is a job that should be taken over by every group and every person. This is the year marking the 150th anniversary of the founding of New Castle. It should be marked with appropriate ceremonies.

Worrall Jones, who has been heading the executive committee has suggested a number of ideas for the celebration and at the meeting Wednesday, it is hoped a battery of ideas will be put forth. The meeting is for every one interested in the idea of a sesqui-centennial celebration. Everyone is asked to be present. The meeting is at two o'clock.

Union Twp. Group Has 1948 Initial Meet

Civic Association Reviews 1947 Accomplishments; Plans Made For 1948 Activities

At Union high school, the Union Township Civic and Athletic Association had their initial meeting of the year, on Wednesday evening, with president Dan Radabaugh in charge.

A review was made of the organization's accomplishments during last year, which included aiding the school board in their athletic program; securing street lights for the township, which will be a reality in a few weeks; sponsoring a volunteer fire department, and a Memorial Day program for the township folks, at their own Service Board.

This year's program will include procuring a community building for the township, now well under way; assisting the volunteer fire department in securing fire plugs; bus service for township, and an award for the senior boy and girl with the highest graduation grades at Union high school.

The association is also interested in the teen-agers of the community, and are providing a place every two weeks, where they may go for an evening's amusement.

After the business period, a delicious lunch was served by the ladies of the association.

The organization welcomes the citizens of the township to join them in making the community the outstanding one in this district.

Green Is Opposed To Being Head Of Political Drive

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—AFL President William Green was reported firmly opposed today to a suggestion that he retire from his present post to lead the Federation's 1948 political drive.

Some influential AFL leaders advanced the proposal recently that Green accept appointment as president emeritus of the organization and then devote his full energies to heading up the AFL speakers' bureau in the forthcoming campaign.

The 74-year-old AFL chief, who has headed the Federation for nearly a quarter century and recently was elected to another term, has turned thumbs down, however.

on the idea that he relinquish active leadership of the big labor body.

There is a possibility that the suggestion may come up for further consideration at the Jan. 26 meeting of the AFL executive council in Miami.

Green is regarded by many AFL officials as the organization's most effective orator before labor audiences. The proponents of his retirement from the AFL presidency feel that he would be highly successful in the 1948 political campaign if he devoted full time to this task.

Report Youngstown Racketeers Invade Erie, Seeking Field

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 8.—Chief of Police Edward J. Allen, Wednesday disclosed that he has been "investigated" in Erie by Youngstown racketeers.

Reports from Erie, where Allen, an FBI-trained officer, served as detective sergeant, had racketeers trying to "dig up something" on the new chief, and also looking up the record of Allen's father, Edward, Sr., who died in 1934. The senior Allen, a former Erie officer, once headed the National Fraternal Order of Police.

At the same time, Allen heard that 15 to 20 Youngstown racketeers and gamblers, their operations blocked by a new "law and order" campaign here, have, in turn, invaded Erie seeking a new field.

It is reported numerous former Youngstown racketeers have been seen making the rounds of Erie's underworld spots. The Youngstowners reportedly are being given the cold shoulder by the home town lads.

Pauley Probe Is Continued

Business Manager Is Quizzed Behind Closed Doors By Senate Committee

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senate speculation investigators quizzed Edwin W. Pauley's business manager behind closed doors today.

Renewing the inquiry into the dealings of Pauley, special assistant to Army Secretary Royall, the Senate subcommittee on commodity gambling summoned Claude

Cameron, treasurer of the Petrol Corp.

Committee aides identified Cameron as a "business manager" who handles much of Pauley's private business. Cameron accompanied lawyers who turned Pauley's personal records over to the subcommittee last week.

Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., said earlier that the subcommittee would thoroughly study Pauley's commodity market transactions for the past two years, including the period when he visited Europe and Asia as President Truman's representative.

Pauley, who held a half million bushels of grain futures when he took his army post last September, has denied that he obtained "inside information" from his reparations job.

How Leaders Comment On President's Message

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Republican party spokesmen bitterly assailed President Truman's message to congress while Democrats warmly praised the chief executive's program.

Rep. Charles Halleck, GOP house leader, charged that the message "is a purely political document designed to out-Wallace Wallace and hold for Mr. Truman the radical wing that controls the Democratic party."

Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, took the same tack in criticizing the president's state of the union summation.

He said:

Not American Methods

"This obvious attempt of the Pendergast wing of the Democratic party to make peace with the Moscow wing, is additional proof that this administration is unwilling to attempt to solve American domestic problems by American methods."

Reece also said: "He could have saved a great many words by simply writing a note saying: 'Dear Henry: Come home, all is forgiven and you can write your own ticket.'"

Sen. Lucas (D) Ill., minority whip, said: "There is no doubt in view of high profits of 1946 and 1947 that corporations can stand taxes of between three and four billion dollars without impairing their capital."

Sen. Langer (R) N. D.: "In my opinion President Truman's recommendation does not meet the desires of the rank and file of the lower income brackets."

Must Cut Taxes: Spending

Other comment included: Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., chairman of the senate finance committee which handles tax legislation: "The president remains committed to high taxes and high spending. The net result of his recommendation will not reduce taxes a single penny."

"The Republicans intend to reduce taxes and to reduce spending. I believe that any Republican tax bill will include an increase in personal exemptions. Provisions for this is included in the Knutson bill now pending in the house."

"The present excessive tax rates on employers discourage the formation of investment capital. Our payroll makers are therefore required to furnish tools for labor largely out of their profits. To tax away that opportunity as proposed by the president would wither our economy and the payrolls which it sustains."

Wants Blank Power Check

Rep. Keefe (R) Wis., member of house appropriations committee: "He wants us to give him a blank check on power, and I'm opposed to that."

Regarding the Marshall plan, the congressman stated: "I'm convinced we want a program, if at all, that will be very definitely limited in line with American economy and without all these controls which will be inevitably forced upon us if we embark on the Marshall plan."

Rep. Eberhart (R) Pa., member of the tax-writing house ways and means committee:

"The president's proposal seems to grant tax relief where it is needed the most."

Rep. Hartley (R) N. J., chairman of the house committee on education and labor and co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor act: "I'm opposed to any return of the OPA, even in a modified form. Under the Taft-Hartley act, we've tried to re-establish true collective bargaining and tried to make the rules of the game fair to both sides. Now the president is butting in. In line with the administration's attitude it will turn out to be merely rationing and price control and no wage control."

State Farmers Get Funds Aiding Soil Conservation In '48

Survey Of Commonwealth's Conservation Needs Prompt Awarding Of Millions For Program

By JACK WARD
(U. S. S. Pennsylvania Farm Editor)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 8.—An unscheduled million dollar federal allocation, in addition to $1,813,000 granted previously, next year will enable Pennsylvania farmers to carry out a soil conservation program "nearly equal" to that of 1947.

Originally slated for a cutback during the coming year, the unexpected grant will permit the Pennsylvania Production and Marketing Administration to program activities which had been given up for lost, reported John A. Smith, secretary.

The 1947 session of the 80th Congress slashed the agency's appropriation from $4,500,000 to less than $2,000,000 he explained.

The additional allocation will boost funds for the PMA's program to approximately $3,000,000, he added. The grant was the result of a survey on the Commonwealth's conservation needs by Pennsylvania State College Extension Service.

"The survey showed Pennsylvania soil has been seriously depleted by more than 300 years of intensive farming," he said. "In order to live within the restrictions of this depleted soil condition and to meet the tremendous demands for food, more money was necessary for conservation activities."

"A stronger and better conservation program is vital to withstand this terrific drain on our soil."

Although conservation activities during the new year will be below those of 1947 a reversal of cost-share program will bring the project's work to near that of this year, Smith said.

During the year, farmers paid 40 per cent of the cost of conservation practices, and the federal government 60 per cent, he explained. Under the new set-up, the government will bear only 40 per cent and farmers 60 per cent of costs, he added.

This plan will result in "more sales resistance" among farmers, he pointed out, but the PMA was preparing to meet objections by instructing farmers in the necessity of rebuilding soil.

A new variety of sweet pepper, named "Pennwonder," developed at the Agricultural Experiment Station of Pennsylvania State College, will be available to vegetable growers for 1948 plantings, Dr. M. L. Odland has announced.

Odland, who developed the new variety, reported several commercial seed houses were featuring the item in new catalogs.

The pepper is thick, sweet, the fruit is smooth and early, he said.

In 1920 it took an average three pounds of bituminous coal to make one kilowatt hour of electricity. Today in the most efficient power plants less than one pound of coal is required.

May Seek To Tow Disabled Russian Ship To Port Now

TOKYO, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The Russian ship Dvina, in distress off northern Japan with 800 passengers aboard, was reported late today to have righted herself partially from a dangerous list that momentarily threatened to overturn the crowded vessel.

U. S. naval authorities in Tokyo received messages from rescue ships and planes at the scene, stating that the Soviet vessel now was listing only 30 degrees.

A few hours earlier, the ship had developed a list of more than 45 degrees and was in imminent danger of turning over in storm-tossed seas.

The possibility of attempting to tow the Dvina into port was being considered because the seas were too rough to permit transfer of the ship's occupants.

Latest messages said a U. S. army plane will remain to circle over the vessel throughout tonight in order to maintain constant observation.

Weather Balloons Too Big, Need New Airport Building

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The Weather Bureau at the Allegheny County 56 Airport is having its troubles with inflations, too.

They're getting new weather balloons out there, but present facilities aren't suitable because the balloons have to be blown up inside a building, and then they can't get them out the door.

So they appealed to the county commissioners for a new building. The appeal quickly was granted, especially when it was announced the federal government would pay for the $4000 building with big doors.

H. M. Gerber said the new balloons, seven feet in diameter, would reach an altitude of 70,000 feet. Present type balloons soar 55,000 feet, carrying delicate weather recording instruments.

Cancer Disease Mystery Probed By Famed Experts

Committee On Growth Seeking
Cause And Cure Of No. 2
Killer In Nation

Famed investigators are patrolling the scientific highways and byways of Pennsylvania and other parts of the country in search for the cause and cure of cancer, the Nation's No. 2 killer, as part of the American Cancer Society's all-out attack against this dread disease.

The investigators are eminent scientists who have been named on the Committee on Growth which is on the alert to detect and report developments that may shed a ray of light and hope on the mysteries of cancer. In the meantime, the Pennsylvania division American Cancer Society and its local affiliated units, are carrying on the best present defense against the disease, an intensified educational program.

The Committee on Growth was appointed by the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences in June, 1945, as the research advisory agency for the American Cancer Society. Under its guidance, the Society disburse research funds in the millions of dollars contributed each April by millions of Americans who want to turn the mightiest weapons of science against the most baffling disease in history.

Fellowship Funds
The committee recommends funds for fellowships for promising young minds, and it approves grants for specific studies undertaken in scores of laboratories throughout the nation. A great and steady stream of scientific information flows through its files in Washington to cancer investigators in the large and small research centers all over the country.

"Cancer is merely uncontrolled growth which invades and destroys the well-ordered cells and tissues of the body," said George B. Larson, the Pennsylvania Division's executive director. "Somewhere among the phenomena of growth is the answer to cancer. And to find the answer, the Committee on Growth sees that every avenue in the maze of factors governing the growth is patrolled by competent investigators."

The committee is divided into six sections—biology, chemistry, physics, chemotherapy, clinical investigations and fellowships. Each section is broken down into several panels which explore the scientific byways in which obscure cancer clues might be found.

The highest mountain in the United States is Mount Whitney in California. It is 14,502 feet in height.

State Physicians Honor Centenarian Mrs. Anna Straley

GREENCASTLE, Pa., Jan. 8.—(INS)—The new year started Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Krebs Straley, of Greencastle, one of the state's healthiest citizens, on her 103rd year.

Franklin county's oldest resident, she was honored by Pennsylvania physicians whom she rarely needed during her long life.

The State Medical Society presented her with a certificate in honor of the event January 2 while the county branch gave her an orchid during a special ceremony.

Doctors made professional calls only at the births of her 12 children, four of whom survive, and during an attack of rheumatism, according to Mrs. Straley. She says she never has had a cold.

Mrs. Straley, who has no formula for longevity, is one of the state's estimated 100 centenarians.

World War 2 Victory and American Defense Medals Ready for Distribution

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Medals for veterans of World War Two, and Pre-Pearl Harbor service are now ready for distribution in the office of A. Lewis Conn, in charge of Veterans Aid. They can be secured with a minimum of red tape.

Supplies of two medals are on hand. One is the World War Two Victory Medal. To qualify for this a man or woman must have served honorably in the armed forces of the United States between December 7, 1941 and December 31, 1946.

The other medal is for men and women who served honorably between September 8, 1939 and December 7, 1941. Many Lawrence county veterans are eligible for both medals.

All that is necessary is for the veteran to present his honorable discharge and the medal or medals will be issued immediately. The Office of Veterans Affairs is in the Court House Annex and is open daily—except Sunday—from 8:30 to 4:30 p. m. and on Saturdays from 8:30 a. m. until noon.

TAX TAKES ESTATE

In the final account filed in the estate of the late William M. Clark, the court order for distribution will take the entire estate it is believed. The final account was presented by the executor of the estate, the Union Trust Company of New Castle. The federal government has laid claim to $120,000 delinquent corporation income taxes and Judge W. Walter Braham has allowed the claim. The estate is valued roughly at $103,000. In the order, Judge Braham says if the personal property holdings now in the estate are insufficient to meet the government's tax claim, then real estate must be sold.

COMPROMISE SUIT

In the equity suit of Mariano Mangiatordi against his wife Mary Mangiatordi, a compromise has been effected. The plaintiff claimed his wife had cleaned out a joint bank account of $2,500 and deposited it to her own use. In the compromise the two agreed to a division of family assets and the case is closed.

FAMILY DISPUTE

Before Judge W. Walter Braham on Wednesday the equity suit of Daniel Korab of 1426 South Jefferson street against Bertha Korab his wife, was heard. The suit is one in which Mr. Korab charges that his wife had taken certain assets from him.

They were married September 10, 1939. In February 1942, Mr. Korab went into the armed forces and served until August, 1945. During his service he claims he sent home $1,500 worth of war bonds and $604 in cash. In addition he claims there was a joint bank account of $1,500. All the assets listed he claims his wife took and he asks an accounting and a return of the assets to him.

CANDIDATE PETITIONS

Upon the suggestion of Chief Clerk William A. Eakin on Wednesday, the county commissioners authorized the purchase of a supply of candidate's petitions for the April 27 primary. The time is drawing near when candidates may secure signature to petitions.

SIX SENTENCES

Six sentences were handed down by the court on Wednesday. Sentences by Judge W. Walter Braham include the following. John Bodnar, Jr., up for drunken driving was fined $100 and cost and thirty days in the county jail, out in three days if the fine and costs are paid. Joseph Golba drew the same sentence for the same offense. Ray J. Slaughter drew a fine of $100 and sixty days for the same offense.

Joseph J. McCormick was assessed the costs and a thirty day jail sentence suspended for driving a car after his license had been suspended. Alfred Liver-

The U. S. bituminous coal industry represents a capital investment of more than three billion dollars. Its yearly payroll exceeds one billion dollars.

Strip, or open-cut, mining of bituminous coal accounts for about 20 per cent of the annual U. S. production. It was 7 per cent a decade ago.

Marshall Is Given Unexpected Ovation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Secretary of State Marshall received an unexpected ovation Wednesday from Congress.

The former army chief of staff arrived in the House chamber for the joint session a few minutes late and entered by a side door after other members of the cabinet had taken their places before the speakers' rostrum.

As he came in and took his seat, a spontaneous burst of applause greeted him. Marshall, taken by surprise, rose and bowed to the assembled throng.

As he did so, members of the House and Senate rose to their feet and applauded and cheered him.

Suicides Under Train Wheels

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The Allegheny county coroner's office today listed as suicide the death of a Pittsburgh man who was decapitated when struck by a train in suburban Sharpburg while two police officers looked on helplessly.

Police Chief Rocco Belsito, who witnessed the suicide, said the victim was Eddie Santech, 42. Belsito said he and Officer Thomas Bismarck were only 50 yards away when they saw Santech throw himself in front of a slowly moving Pennsylvania freight train.

Over 18 Million War Veterans In U.S., Latest Report

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A review of Veterans Administration records disclosed that the nation's veterans population has reached a new peak of 18,568,000.

The records also showed that more veterans participated in Government aid programs during 1947 than in any previous year.

Of the total number of veterans, 14,685,000 are from World War I and 3,884,000 from all other wars and the regular military establishment.

Veterans in all types of government training programs reached a new peak of 2,900,000 on Nov. 30. There were 2,546,000 in education and training programs under the GI Bill of Rights and 254,000 under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. Although new applications for unemployment allowances gradually have declined, the total number of veterans who have at one time or another collected their $20-a-week compensation is approximately 7 1/2 million.

The overall cost of veterans unemployment compensation has been $3,636,584,127. The average duration of the unemployment help was six weeks, but some 467,000 have exhausted their entire 52-week right to compensation.

Over Million Loans Guaranteed

The number of loans guaranteed also hit a new high of 1,138,116 in November. Most loans were made to finance homes. The total amount came to a record-breaking $6,267,724,000 and will be higher when the December figures are available.

The number of veterans drawing disability compensation hit a peak of 2,894,000 in July, but has been decreasing since then. The number at the end of November was 2,191,759.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, GOP policy leader, announced today that he will go on the air over the ABC network Thursday at 9:30 p. m. (EST) to "answer" President Truman's State of the Union message.

Taft is an avowed seeker of the Republican Presidential nomination and his broadcast is expected to afford a preview of the principal campaign issues in the 1948 Presidential election.

Of the national production of bituminous coal, in 1946 about 37 per cent was produced at mines having mechanical cleaning plants.

Farm Program Of President Is Short On Details

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Rep. Hope (R) Kan., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said today that the farm program proposals in President Truman's State of the Union message "are lacking both in detail and in new ideas."

Hope declared that every point suggested by the president is already under consideration by his committee, which is drafting a long-range farm program.

He remarked that there was nothing in the farm proposals he would "want to disagree with," but added that they are woefully short in specific details—"and the details are what cause the trouble."

The president called for raising the farm standard of living through a modernized price support program, strengthened crop insurance, support for cooperatives, continuation of the school lunch program, expansion of rural electrification and a stepped-up conservation program.

The message said action on these matters should be "immediate," but hope could see only a 50-50 chance that a long-range farm bill would pass this session.

He explained that passage of the Marshall Plan will assure farm prosperity to the point where there is no pressing need for aid to the farmers, adding:

"While that fact alone shouldn't prevent a bill from passing, there aren't as likely to be as many concessions made by either side as there would be if we were about to topple over the precipice."

Hope said that extension and modernization of the price support program, which is slated to be December 31, is being given high priority by his committee. He added that strengthening of crop insurance and a stepped-up soil conservation program also are being pushed.

FIND MORE PALESTINE MUNITIONS

AS FEDERAL AUTHORITIES pressed their hunt for the key figures in a contraband arms shipment ring, new discoveries were made in the Bronx, New York, warehouse, which already had been revealed as the source of some 65,000 pounds of TNT. The military material was intended for shipment to Tel Aviv and Haifa, in Palestine. Above, police and firemen rip open crates containing a cartridge loading machine, live bullets, military radio equipment and other assorted machinery. Below, a reporter comes upon a mine detector in the building. (International)

Navy And Air Force Dominant Factors In Any New World War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz predicted Tuesday that in any future war the United States will be initially dependant upon its navy and air force.

Nimitz, in a memorandum presented to Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan upon Nimitz' retirement as chief of naval operations, stressed the need for sea-going strength in any battle against potential enemies.

He said that offensively or defensively the United States would be forced to use naval air and fire power as well as air force strength to achieve any degree of success. Nimitz admitted that in later stages large ground forces would be desirable for the seizure and occupation of enemy ports and territory.

Stresses Strength
At the same time, he stressed the need for continued naval strength to protect commerce without which the United States would be unable to wage war. To emphasize this, he said:

"Our national resources in petroleum products alone are inadequate for the prosecution of a long war."

Nimitz continued: "For any future war to be of sufficient magnitude to affect us seriously it must be compounded of two primary ingredients: Vast man power and tremendous industrial capacity."

"These conditions exist today in the great land mass of Central Asia, in East Asia and Western Europe. The two latter areas will not be in a position to endanger us for decades to come unless they pass under unified totalitarian control."

Shortage Of Manpower
The former chief of naval operations foresaw a shortage of manpower in the United States as compared to that available to potential enemies. He said:

"We should, therefore, direct our thinking toward realistic and highly specialized operations. We should plan to afflict unacceptable damage through maximum use of our technological weapons and our ability to produce them in great quantities."

Nimitz listed as weapons available through technological superiority, guided missiles, the atom bomb—carried either in carrier or land based planes and fast self-sustaining fleets which would provide bases for U. S. advanced forces far from American shores.

Niccolo Paganini, Italian violinist and composer, once was compelled to borrow a violin for a concert at Leghorn, and a citizen lent him a Guarnerius, said to be one of the finest violins in the world. When Paganini tried to return the violin to its owner the latter said: "Never will I profane the strings which your fingers have touched. That instrument is yours." Until his death Paganini used the Guarnerius at all his concerts and bequeathed it to his native city of Genoa, where it is still preserved in the museum.

Three-Cornered Battle Develops In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Jews, Arabs, and British soldiers engaged in a searing three-cornered gun battle in the heart of Jerusalem today while fresh flare-ups in Holy Land fighting killed two persons and wounded nine others.

One Jew was killed and four wounded when Arabs attacked a bus between Haifa and Tel Aviv. A British policeman was killed, presumably by Arabs, at Hebron, about 40 miles south of Jerusalem. The violent three-way pitched battle started when Arabs fired on the Jewish quarter in the old Montiflore district from positions on the slopes of Mount Zion. Casualties were unknown, but Arabs carried five bodies from the scene of the shooting.

Salt is used when freezing ice cream for the reason that it causes the ice to melt, and in melting the ice absorbs heat. Therefore, salt added to ice, hastens the melting of the ice which in turn hastens the freezing of the ice cream.

Report Eighty Greek Guerrillas Under Arrest

By ALKAIOS ANGELOPOULOS
WITH GREEK TROOPS NORTH OF KONITSA, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Eighty guerrilla officers were reported today to have been arrested by their own forces following the expulsion from the Konitsa triangle of the last of the rebel troops.

The officers, described as "Cape-tanois and his staff", were seized on orders of the "premier, minister of war and supreme commander of the Democratic army of the first Republican government"—presumably the official rebel title for guerrilla chief General Markos Vafiades. Their arrest marked the collapse of the rebel drive to seize a sizeable Greek town as the capital for their newly-organized "government."

Clear Out Triangle
Greek forces tonight completed clearing out the triangle bounded by the Aous and Sarandaporos rivers and the Albanian frontier, in which the drive was launched.

The arrest were made as soon as the defeated guerrillas returned to their mountain strongholds. It is reported that they will be court-martialed on charges of cowardice, military incompetence, high-treason, and failure to capture Konitsa despite orders that the town be taken at any cost.

Some reports filtering down from the rebel mountain headquarters said that a number of those arrested had committed suicide.

See Long Delay In Drafting Of Japanese Treaty

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Russia's persistent refusal to agree on a disposition of Japan's war plants as reparations is interpreted in diplomatic quarters as indicating a prolonged delay in drafting a Japanese peace treaty.

Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., smoked the revelation from the State Department that Russia has been responsible in the Far Eastern Commission for complete failure over two years of negotiations to allow the distribution of these assets.

Knowland, in a letter to Under-Secretary of State Lovett, demanded over the weekend that the State Department reveal the amounts of Japanese plants turned over to Russia. He produced the specific answer that none had been.

Blocked Agreement
However, it also brought forth to open admission that the Russian member on the FEC had blocked any agreement on this important question. This fit in the terms by which Russia has vetoed decisions of the United Nations Security Council and of the Council of Foreign Ministers on other questions.

The department revealed that it had offered repeatedly schedules of reparations deliveries to FEC over the past two years and been unsuccessful in gaining agreement. It was this situation which caused the State Department last spring to make 30 percent of Japan's surplus industry available to the devastated Far Eastern lands of China and the Philippines, Malaya, Burma and the Netherlands East Indies.

Wants Own Settlement
This situation is interpreted as indicating that Russia is unwilling to accept any settlement of Japanese reparations which she does not herself approve. This is taken to explain her insistence that she maintain the veto in drafting the proposed Japanese treaty.

When a conference was first proposed last August Moscow insisted that the treaty be drafted by the Foreign Ministers Council, where she has the veto. After the breakdown of the London Council meeting on Germany and Austria, Moscow accepted the Chinese proposal to use the formula of the Far Eastern Commission, where she also has the veto.

Thus far there has been no acceptance of the U. S. proposal for an 11-power meeting with decisions to be made by a two-third vote. Behind Russia's stand is the question of her removals of Japanese industrial property from Manchuria. These have been estimated at between one billion and two billion dollars.

The United States maintains that these plants were properly to be considered as reparations. Russia has insisted that they are war booty and that she should get further reparations from Japan proper.

George II was the last English monarch who wore knee breeches as a regular thing.

Mine Foreman Is Given Release From Prison Term

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Jan. 8.—(INS)—William Pilpott, 34, is back at his job of mine foreman after having completed an interrupted prison sentence for armed robbery.

Following his escape 13 years ago from a North Carolina prison, Pilpott came to Williamson and worked his way to a position of respect in the little mining community.

President Harry S. Gay, of the Gay Mining Company, joined others in urging Pilpott's release after his apprehension last September. Gay petitioned the governor of North Carolina who said there was nothing he could do.

Pilpott returned to complete his sentence which would have had until June 29, 1949 to run, but last week Governor R. Gregg Cherry ordered him released conditionally. En route back to his job, Pilpott stopped off in Fieldale, Va., to see his mother whom he had avoided during his long illegal freedom for fear a visit would lead to his recapture.

RISE IN RELIEF ROLL

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Pennsylvania's general assistance rolls increased by 501 persons in the week ending December 13. This was the largest of four increases that have occurred in the past five weeks. However, the upturn is not unusual, because seasonal factors have always tended to cause an increase in the rolls at this time of the year. The effect of these factors usually continues until March or April.

CALVES REQUIRE PROPER STABLING

The first requisite in successful calf raising is proper stabling. Without this, any calf rearing program cannot get started to good advantage.

Calf pens need to be placed in a warm part of the barn which is free from drafts, and arranged to facilitate feeding hay, grain, and milk. Water, preferably in drinking cups, should be available at all times. An electric ventilation fan outlet near the calf pens will draw the warm air from the cows over to the calves.

Individual slatted bottom calf pens about 3x5 feet, or up to 4x5 feet, are the best for the cow barn. Bedding these deep with straw will keep the calves clean, dry and warm. The pens need not be cleaned until the calf is removed at about 3 to 4 months of age.

Calves stabled by groups in pens should be bedded deep, and stanchioned at feeding time and for an hour afterward to prevent sucking. A slatted platform at the back of the pen will provide a dry place to lie down.

ORDER AND ACCEPT FERTILIZER EARLY

A shortage of nitrogen and potash is expected next spring. The cause is not lack of production but the demand for nitrogen for export, difficulty of getting transportation of potash from New Mexican mines, and the tremendous increase in demand and use of fertilizer stimulated by high crop prices.

If you plan to use fertilizer next year, order early to get what is wanted and to have it on hand when needed. Most manufacturers have their bins full of well-cured goods at this time but have trouble in getting it out to farms. They would like to refill their bins as soon as possible to allow ample time for curing before spring.

Well-cured material should keep in excellent condition in the storage space usually available on the farm. The only precaution is to store in a dry place off the ground and piled not more than 4 or 5 bags high.

plied on a grain crop in which clover is to be sown.

There also is some evidence that phosphate used in the stable has some sanitary effect as it dries up wet floors and keeps down stable odors. Use of the granular grade of superphosphate removes any objection to its making wet floors slippery.

ACCESSORIES AGAIN LIKE NEW AFTER WASHING

Fascinators and snoods for the girls, hair-ribbons for the little girls and cotton or wool neckties for the boys will look like new if they are laundered properly.

For successful washing of loosely knitted or crocheted snoods and fascinators, use a generous amount of lukewarm soapsuds for washing and rinse thoroughly in lukewarm water. Always support them with both hands when lifting from the water so the weight of the water does not drag the articles out of shape. Roll them carefully in a turkish towel to absorb excess moisture, then spread flat to dry. Ease the rippled edges or scallops into shape with the fingers while the pieces are still damp.

Grosgrain, satin, or taffeta ribbon may be washed in lukewarm soapsuds, then rinsed in clear water. Wash by running the ribbons through the fingers instead of rubbing which may separate the threads. Velvet ribbons may be washed by plunging up and down in the suds, then rinsed without twisting. Ribbons are dried flat. Grosgrain, satin, or taffeta ribbon is ironed on the wrong side and velvet is steamed over the tea-kettle and the nap brushed.

Before wetting a necktie make a necktie press out of cardboard. Lay the tie on a piece of fairly heavy cardboard, draw around the tie, then cut the cardboard and cover with unbleached muslin. Wash the tie in lukewarm suds, rinse in clear lukewarm water, roll in a towel to take out excess moisture, then hang straight to dry. When dry, insert the press in the tie, cover with a damp pressing cloth, and use a warm iron to put the tie back into tip-top shape.

Those desiring more information on laundering may secure the following publications "Easier Laundering" and "Simple Rules for Hand Laundering" which are available upon request to the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Building, New Castle. These publications may contain the answers to a number of your questions. They are available without charge.

Britain Ready For Conference On Palestine

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 8.—The British government has advised United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie of its readiness to enter into close consultation with the five-power Palestine commission assembling at Lake Success, N. Y., Friday.

One of the principal objectives of Britain is to lay joint plans with the U. N. group for systematic and coordinated procedure in the transferring of administrative power in the Holy Land and on preliminary partition steps.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British representative at Lake Success, conveyed the desires of his government to Lie and requested the latter to suggest to the commission that an early invitation be extended to him to appear before it.

Seek To Revive State Program For Woodlands

HARRISBURG, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The department of forests and water today revived a program to promote cultivation of woodlands by communities first established almost four decades ago.

The plan is designed to encourage scientific lumber harvests, to restore wastelands and improve the conditions of neglected forest areas.

Town forests could become "paying propositions" to small communities enterprising lumbering businesses in conjunction with their holdings, according to Secretary M. F. Draemel.

Renewal of the community forest campaign, authorized under an act of 1909, was sparked by the establishment of a public forest on a 246-acre woodlot in Potter county.

The land was presented to the village of Shinglehouse by a former resident with the specification that it be used for reforestation purposes.

Draemel said the project was the start of a "phase of forestry" the commonwealth planned to promote.

The donor, identified as Dr. Harold N. Cole of Shaker Heights, O., told Draemel in a letter he had conceived the idea of turning the property over for community development when he observed operation of town forests in Switzerland. Many communities abroad met their entire operational expenses with proceeds from forestry enterprises, he claimed.

The department reported the first community forest was established by Coudersport in 1922 and only 200 small woodlots containing a total of 100,000 acres have been developed by local governments since then.

Cole suggested a wild life refuge be placed in the forest area and the entire reserve be dedicated as a "living memorial" to World War II veterans.

He told Draemel he donated the property to "encourage other town forests throughout Pennsylvania and encourage reforestation and conservation by all landowners."

Erie Girl Giving Up Airline Post For Mission Work

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 8.—(INS)—Dorothy Beckman, 26, has given up her "glamorous" job as an airline hostess to aid the poor.

The young woman from Erie traveled the airlines to Madrid, Puerto Rico, Bombay and Cairo. During a four month rest period in Cairo she saw "streets filled with lepers and beggars, poverty stricken homes and people who need help."

Dorothy felt she had to do something about so much heartache, so she gave up her job and enrolled in the Settlement House Community in Chicago to train for missionary work.

STATE CITIZENS TRY HOME CURES SURVEY INDICATES

HARRISBURG, Jan. 8.—(INS)—An estimated 60 per cent of Pennsylvania's 10,000,000 citizens still practice home cures before consulting doctors about illnesses. The State Health Department reported today a survey of 1512 home medicine cabinets revealed the far reaching influence of commercial advertising.

Mrs. Edna M. Keck, chief of health education, said about 58 per cent of householders interviewed said they got some relief from patent medicines, but less than seven per cent reported a cure.

The survey pointed up a vital need for more intense health education to improve health practices, Mrs. Keck said.

Woman Suggests No Income Taxes

Vivien Kellems, Connecticut Manufacturer, Says 'Should Drop Income Taxes Altogether'

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Miss Vivien Kellems, the Connecticut Yankee who currently is invading the middle west, carried an appeal for the repeal of all income taxes to suburban Highland Park and received a standing ovation.

In an address before the Highland Park GOP club Tuesday night, the New England woman industrialist charged:

"The income tax is the strongest weapon ever placed in the hands of unscrupulous government. And as long as that amendment (the 16th) is a part of our constitution our freedom is in jeopardy."

Assails New Deal
Miss Kellems, who back home in Bridgeport manufactures cable grips when she isn't taking a stand on women's rights, assailed bureaucracy, the Marshall plan and New Dealism.

Asked how the federal government would get along without income tax revenues, Miss Kellems replied:

"It's very simple. We just have less government. We spend less money. And we'll all be much happier because we'll be running the government, instead of the government running us, as it's been doing for the last 15 years."

Strikes Reduced During Past Year

Labor Department Reports
Strike Idleness Reduced
Two-Thirds In 1947

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The labor department reported today that the nation reduced its strike idleness by two-thirds last year but escaped the full impact of controversy that may arise out of the Taft-Hartley law.

In a review of 1947's 3,600 work stoppages, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said that wages were the chief cause of disputes with some year-end controversies emphasizing issues resulting from provisions of the new labor law.

The BLS added: "Many union contracts were signed in the first half of 1947 and controversial issues which might arise over the law's application would not normally appear until these agreements expire in 1948 or, in some instances, at an even later date."

"Blow-Off To Come Later"

The bureau's analysis coincided with a new year's warning of A. F. L. President William Green. Green said "the blow-off will come" at the expiration of existing contracts next spring when unions and employers discover "they cannot continue long-standing contractual relationships on the same basis."

The 3,600 strikes in 1947 involved approximately 2,200,000 workers and cost the country an estimated 35 million man-days of idleness in plants or establishments directly affected by the labor-management disputes.

In contrast, 1946 recorded 4,985 strikes involving 4,600,000 workers and causing 116 million man-days of idleness. The wave of labor disputes in the first post-war year boosted idleness in an all-time record.

Three large disputes in 1947 accounted for almost half of the year's idleness. The nationwide telephone strike in April and May, together with a prolonged walkout of east coast shipyard workers and a brief coal strike, caused 15 million man-days of idleness.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Italy's Leap Year present to Hollywood has arrived safe and sound.

He is Carlo Pavone, who'll be introduced to the cinema addicts as Leo Dale.

Leo is definitely not married. To use his own words, he is "the simplest man in the whole world."

Just Plain Man
You wouldn't call him handsome, any more than you would call Gregory Peck handsome. He's just plain, virile man. He is 29. He is five feet, 11 and a half inches tall in his stocking feet. He weighs 170 pounds, which he admits is too light but due to the slim diet of his native land.

He has a shock of sun bleached brown hair, the kind the girls like to run their fingers through, and blue eyes. He smiles easily.

He'd been in town just a week when I had lunch with him at 20th Century-Fox, who imported him after a brief test in Italy. He had featured roles in six Italian pictures and played in others besides.

Leo speaks English fluently. He explained he had an English nurse when he was six.

He added:

"I also was engaged to an English lady for a year and a half and I learned much English from her." His father was Faust Pavone, a criminal attorney in Rome. An uncle, Giuseppe Pavone, was an anti-Fascist general. Leo himself worked with the American OSS behind the German lines for six months after the Salerno landings.

University Graduate
Leo started out to be an electrical engineer, and was graduated from the University of Naples.

He has yet to meet his first movie glamour girl.

"I have seen pictures of them and they look very beautiful," he said. "I do not expect to be disappointed when I meet them."

There are two other things which have overwhelmed him in the short time he has been in glamorland. One is the sprawling size of Los Angeles.

"I really haven't been any place yet," he said. "You have to have a car to get around."

The second is American food. He said:

"Why, anybody can buy things here that only a millionaire could afford in Italy."

Castle Buick Co.
Makes Formal Bow

K. G. Lindersmith Is Head Of New Company: Headquarters At South And Mercer Sts.

Complete in every detail, the Castle Buick company makes its formal bow to New Castle today. Heading the new company is K. G. Lindersmith, who has made many improvements in the huge sales and service building at South and Mercer streets.

The building has been the home of Buick since long before World War I. It has not only a sales department, but a complete parts department, repair and service shops and indoor parking space for hundreds of cars.

Mr. Lindersmith is an Ohioan who recognizes opportunity in New Castle. A native of Toledo, he spent 15 years in the automotive and allied industries in Cleveland, O., before going into the Army Air Corps in World War II. For a time he was Cleveland general sales manager for GMC. He spent 42 months in service, much of it in the Caribbean area.

Upon returning from service Mr. Lindersmith negotiated the Buick franchise for New Castle and has already purchased a home on Edison avenue. Shortly he will bring his wife and two daughters to New Castle. Here he says he "has settled in the kind of a city he likes. This is where our roots will be from now on," he concluded.

Like every other automobile, the supply of Buicks does not yet meet the demand, but Mr. Lindersmith is optimistic that before too long there will be sufficient cars.

In the repair and service department he has a staff of competent mechanics and expects to expand the service given heretofore.

Rivals Wary Of Moves

Shrewd George Halas Will Be "Marked" Man At NFL Grid Sessions

By CHARLES HENSTEN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Sundry National Football League clubowners, shrewd tradesmen all, are prepared to shun George Halas of the Chicago Bears like the plague at the N. F. L. meetings in New York next week.

Halas, of whom one rival owner once said "Say Hello to him and you lose money," is widely seeking to bring all-American tackle George Connor of Notre Dame into the Bear camp, a move which will require more acumen than that involved in the original purchase of Manhattan Island.

Considering all of its branch lines, the situation is really funny. The Boston Yanks hold draft rights to Connor, having received these as one phase of the treaty which sent Paul Gervino from Boston to the New York Giants in exchange for Bill Paschal.

However, acknowledging Connor's expressed wish to play in his home town, Chicago, the Boston people are willing to let Halas have the draft rights to Connor in exchange for one of two Bear tackles—either Mike Jarmoluk or Walt Sticksel, both of whom are good boys.

Player In Philly

Both of them, as a matter of fact, are Philadelphia at heart. Jarmoluk, having performed for Temple and Sticksel for Pennsylvania. In consequence, both with nothing to do with Boston, and one of them, Jarmoluk, has declared he desires to play with no one but the Philadelphia Eagles.

Halas would be only too glad to send Jarmoluk to the Eagles, if Sticksel would go to Boston in exchange for the draft rights to Connor and if the Eagles would trade somebody—say, Steve Van Buren—in exchange for Jarmoluk. Complicating that situation is the fact that Connor, due to talk with Halas in Chicago before this week is up, reportedly is considering seriously an offer from the Cleveland Browns, who own the draft rights to him in the rival all-American conference.

Matter To Debate

Whether he desires to play in Cleveland is a matter for debate, but in a pinch the Browns could always trade him to the Chicago member of the all-American conference, if and when one such manages to rise from the rubble of the defunct Rockets.

In cognizance, all this, George Halas, the most fabulous trader the National league has ever known, is expected to be his usual friendly self at the league meetings in New York.

After successfully swapping draft rights to pay Evans for those to Bobby Layne with the Pittsburgh Steelers (Layne is some eight years younger than Evans), Halas is more of a marked man than ever.

He is a perfectly nice guy, but if nobody talks to him in New York, even to inquire after the state of his health, it will come as no surprise.

Tough Games On Tap

High School Fives Resume Friday

Titans Hoping To End Losing Streak Tonight

Blue And White Face
Bethany Bisons At Home;
New Lineup Hinted

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 8.—Westminster's basketball Titans will return to the local basketball wars tonight when they tackle Bethany college in the Titan gymnasium.

Washabaugh's eagles will attempt to get back into the win column after a trio of losses. Utah, Miami and St. Francis all whipped the Titans in convincing fashion.

Seek More Height

Westminster's toughest task will be stopping high scoring Jimmy Mewhirter, but a duo of others will give the Titans no easy time. Billy Dumbough, three-year veteran and team captain, is one of the better set shots in the district. Edgar Martin, diminutive forward, like Mewhirter, is an excellent shot maker.

Washabaugh cannot decide on a starting quintet. The Titan mentor has been experimenting regularly in drills this week to find a working combination with plenty of height. Lack of height has been one of the major factors in the Titans' recent poor showing.

The finale of the evening went to the Epworth team over Wampum team by a forfeit.

There will be three more games at the "Y" tonight, with the first game featuring the Local Bronze team against the American Legion, and at 8:15 the First Congregational will battle the First Methodist, and the finale of the evening will find the First Baptist playing the tough Wampum team.

Elks Tenpin Lead First-Half Tied

The New Castle Elks Tenpin league first-half at the Travers alleys has ended, and it will necessitate a playoff between the Iowa and Indiana teams who finished in a dead-heat for first place. The rolloff for the first-half championship will take place Sunday, February 1.

High average for the first-half of the league was rolled by Arthur Meek, 189 in 17 games, Tom Twaddle with 172 in 36 games, Wally Patterson with 171 in 36 games, and C. Twaddle with 169 in 42 games.

The Elks tenpinners have already started the second-half title race.

Mahoning Junior high defeated Wampum Junior high at the Wampum floor Wednesday 30 to 25 with Carbone and Carbone, the Mahoning stars, and Craine and Swogger best for Wampum. Friday the Mahoning team will play Washington at Washington, it was announced by Coach Rees Flannery.

YANKS SIGN "SNUFFY"
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The New York Yankees had three players in the fold for 1948 today with receipt of the signed contract of Snuffy Stirrweiss, second baseman.

Snuffy got a raise although he batted only .256 last season, due to a poor start.

GARDEN CARD
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Mighty New York University plays Duke, and West Virginia clashes with Manhattan in a basketball double-header at Madison Square Garden tonight. N. Y. U. and West Virginia are heavy favorites.

Bobby Jones has won the British Open Golf Championship three times, in 1929, 1927 and 1930.

Although the first round firing in basketball sections 3 and 23 followed pretty faithfully the script, there were enough upsets to portend dire things for members of both loops as play progresses.

In Section Three, Aliquippa seemed everything they have been touted to be, dumping Beaver Falls, but the Tiger surge in the final period gave glimmer of hope that the Indians are not invincible. The Hetra lads were closing the gap when the buzzer ended the contest, at 50-41.

At Ambridge it was a case of "Bridger" inaptness and not New Castle power. The Red Hurricane was definitely off its game and could never spurt to a comfortable lead against the Palmer men. Perhaps it was opening night jitters or something of the like, but the Douglass flippers will have to show improvement tomorrow night against dangerous Beaver Falls.

Ellwood "Comer"
At Ellwood the Wolverines caused a mild flurry of comment by edging Sharon, 29-26, although there were quite a few followers of the game who knew the Wallace men could pull the trick. The "Wolves" played deliberate, safe ball in a tight contest that was in doubt up to the final foot.

Pete Colodi's Bengals seem to suffer from a lack of height and scoring punch and will find it tough to climb back to the heights they enjoyed last campaign when they battled Aliquippa for the crown.

Friday Ellwood will get a chance to reveal just what it has when the Tubers invade Farrell. The Steelers, idle Tuesday, are the talk of the circuit following that shocker over Duquesne and are picked by many to sweep the section.

They will be anxious to stop Ellwood and start their schedule with a bang.

Wampum Fears Shenango
Coach Butler Henson's Section 23 champs, the Wampum Indians, took up where they left off last season, as they blasted Princeton, 58-36 Tuesday, but the Redskin mentor is worried about Friday's tussle with Shenango.

The Wildcats edged Mt. Jackson, 46-42, and are improving each time out.

Bessemer, conqueror of East Brook in surprisingly easy fashion, takes on a tricky New Wilmington team that clipped Union, 32-26. This should be a real struggle.

In other games, Union goes to East Brook and Mt. Jackson invades Princeton.

Accident Prevents Game At K.P. Hall

Braddock Team In Accident Near Zellenople; Play Saks Of Warren Friday

There was no K. P. Pulaski "Big Five" and Braddock game last night at the K. P. hall, due to an accident near Zellenople in which one of the cars enroute here from Braddock suffered a broken front wheel, it was announced by Al Gonet today. Three players in another car reached New Castle safely ahead of the other car.

Friday at the K. P. hall, Gonet has booked the fast Saks Jewelers of Warren, O., for a battle. In the prelim the Cubs will play the Universal Pottery team at 7:30 o'clock.

Have Fine Record

Sunday the East Liverpool Legion will play the "Big Five" at the K. P. hall instead of the Arena, it was announced. East Liverpool has won eight and lost one game this year.

In the preliminary game last night the K. P. Cubs defeated the Wing A. C. 58 to 51 with Blackie Rycaj, Telesz, Hnat, Plonka, Naples and F. Tusciano starring.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—(INS)—A capacity crowd will, on hand tonight to open the 1948 boxing season at the Aragon Garden, Pittsburgh, with the lightweight scrap between Joey Fafello, of Hays, and Al Gualter of Washington, Pa., the eight round feature.

Three six rounders and a four complete the program. In the semi-final, a honey of eight looms as Rad Minko, of Charleroi, takes on Vic Kondik. Another six ofers Johnny Komlo, of Fredericktown, Pa., who recently suffered his first defeat, against Johnny Watson, of Pittsburgh.

The third six brings together Harry Schneider, of Charleroi, and Shiek Foreman, of Pittsburgh.

The four round curtain-raiser had Buddy Frazier, of Pittsburgh, meeting Duquesne's Mike Lash.

Clanton Victim Of Hard Punch In First Round

Abrupt Endings Mark Most Of Card; Bouts Over In Hour's Time

Elkins Brothers, New Castle's sensational heavyweight knockout artist, was paid $267, for recording the fastest TKO ever recorded in The Arena when he defeated Jeff Clanton of Buffalo, in half a minute of the first round last night.

Three of the other four battles had abrupt endings, two of the battles ending in a knockout in the

ELKINS BROTHERS No Time Lost

The fights began at 8:30 p. m. and the fans and fanettes were filling out of the Palace of Punch at 9:30 p. m., which incidentally is another record. The gate was $1,659, from which Uncle Sam and the state of Pennsylvania collected $346.25, in taxes.

When the first bell rang Brothers leaped across the ring and tried to nail Clanton with a long right. It missed. Clanton put a right to the body, then followed with another right to the body and a third right to Brothers' head.

Right Drops Clanton
Brothers jabbed, hooked his left to the body and then sent an atomizing right to the point of Clanton's jaw which felled Jeff like a rock. He took a count of nine, crawled to his knees, then arose.

However, his head was filled with cobwebs and his legs were weak; so weak, in fact, that he didn't straighten up. He staggered across the ring and plunged into Brothers' corner where he collapsed. Referee Mike Hogan stopped the fight.

The end came so quickly that the timekeeper, William Fazzone did not take the exact time. However, the fight could not have lasted more than half a minute.

JUST IN Wolverine Shell-Horsehide WORK SHOES

Oscar Levine
The Men's Wear Quality Group Store in New Castle

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The attitude of the nation's gridiron coaches toward the prevailing football rules today is "let well enough alone."

As a result, only two minor changes will be recommended for final action to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Rules Committee which meets next Tuesday at Savannah, Ga. The two proposals, made by the 25-man group headed by Lou Little of Columbia, are:

1. It is recommended that the rule on two successive kickoffs going out of bounds be amended so that the receiving team will take possession of their own "restraining" line instead of the kickers' 40-yard line.

2. When a player is injured after the fourth time out in a half, only the injured player can be substituted for without penalty.

These were the fewest number of changes to gain the approval of the coaches since before the war. Little explained:

"We felt the game was in such good balance that there was no immediate need for any more major changes."

Rejected were such controversial proposals as eliminating the extra point after touchdown; allowing both teams to advance with a fumble; allowing a runner to get up and continue after falling; abolishing the free substitution rule and permitting T-formation quarterbacks to receive passes when standing less than a yard behind the scrimmage line.

STAGS' RALLY DEFEATS KNICKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(INS)—The Chicago Stags snuffed out a closing rally by the New York Knickerbockers last night at Madison Square Garden to beat the Knicks for the third straight time this season, 79-74.

The Stags jumped out to a half-time lead of 46-31 and increased it to 58-35 mid-way through the third quarter when the Knicks staged their belated rally with eighteen minutes to play.

However, Chicago mustered its defenses in the final period and the five-point difference at the finish was as close as the Knicks could get.

Chicago's Stan Miaszek was high point man with 25.

OLYMPIC CHAIRMAN WILL LEAVE SOON

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Avery Brundage, chairman of the United States Olympic committee, was completing preparations today for his trip to St. Moritz, Switzerland, for the winter Olympics Jan. 30-Feb. 8.

He will sail from New York Jan. 17 with Owen V. Van Camp, treasurer of the committee.

New Type Of Newspapers Now Forecast

By RUTH BRIGHAM

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 8.—When you pick up your newspaper of the future, don't be surprised if the type is red or green—and a product of photography instead of the printing press.

That's the opinion today of William Y. Dear, owner of the Jersey City Printing Company, a firm that prints magazines, text books, newspapers and more than half of the telephone books—as far as space goes—in the world.

The capitalist reviewed over 50 years in the printing business which have "shown tremendous strides but nothing to compare with what the future will produce."

Verge Of Change

He said: "All processes of printing are on the verge of being changed through research. It is entirely possible that newspapers of the future might be photographed."

As for the color, Dear points proudly to what has been accomplished in the field of colored print through lithography.

His firm prints text books for schools throughout the country, and has successfully printed class books in four colors recently through a lithographic process.

Interviewed at his winter residence on Miami Beach, Dear said: "Before long it is very likely that someone will come up with a typing machine that produces perfect type for newsprint and will reproduce perfectly through photography."

Easier Labor Situation

He said the colored school books are appealing not only to the small fry but were now being used for higher education.

Dear looks toward an "easier situation on the labor front" in 1948. He said he believes the Taft-Hartley Act will stand up and will "actually benefit labor, for a change, instead of labor leaders."

The veteran printer said he believed that "education of labor is the answer to the differences."

He explained: "The manufacturers ought to see that labor people are told the truth. They ought to be shown the auditor's reports. When they understand that all is not profit, they will change their attitudes. They will realize that expansion and improvements are to their advantage."

From remote antiquity cymbals and hand bells were used in religious ceremonies.

CLANTON VICTIM OF HARD PUNCH IN FIRST ROUND

and proved that as a puncher, Brothers belongs in the first row of Hard Hitters.

Krestas, Clown, Loses

George Krestas of Mansfield, O., 158, was decisively in six rounds by Julian Keene of Washington, 162. Krestas fought a la Elmo, likewise Muddy Kurtz.

Krestas fought an orthodox fight. Krestas graced, turned southpaw, now and then, and exhibited nothing but a turtle defense and swings, which rarely touched Keene.

Billy Malone, Pittsburgh, 157, turned in a neat knockout in the first over Dave Adams, Pittsburgh, 156. They fiddled around for an opening for the greater part of the first chapter. Both were clever.

However, Malone found Adams with a left hook, and dropped Adams for the full count of 10.

Johnny Fulton, Pittsburgh, and Jim Russell, East Liberty, heavyweights, put on a rousing battle until Russell won a TKO in the third. Fulton started cleverly but in time Russell, a phlegmatic sort, finally caught up to him in the second. Fulton was on the floor at the bell. He was battered and went down in the third. The referee stopped the joust.

Miles Jones Wins

Miles Jones, Washington, 142, a stablemate of Brothers and Keene, knocked out Bob Maloney of Youngstown, 142, in the opening chapter. Miles, who, like Keene proved an entertaining fighter who knew what it was all about, floored Maloney and when Bob arose, sent a left hook to the jaw and kept him down for 10 seconds.

To write that the show was a terrific success, from a fist point, would be stretching the truth. The Fulton-Russell go was hot with plenty of action. Krestas clowning didn't appeal fans, but the fast, vicious main bout, with its TKO climax pleased fans. They went there to see Brothers meet Clanton, who made good here previously, saw him win and were satisfied.

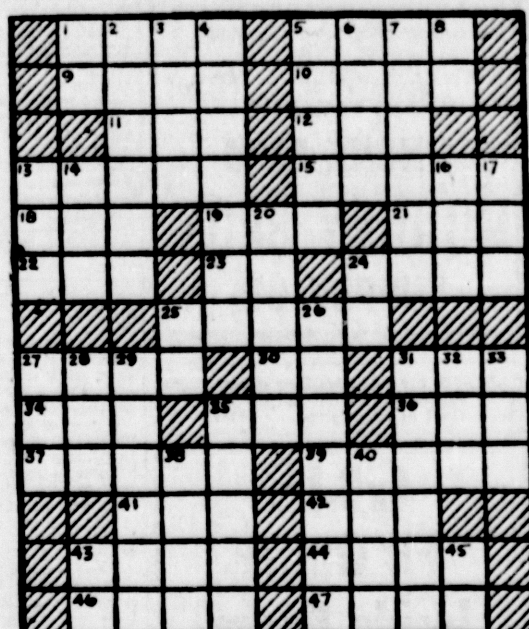

The referees Sam Leyschock and Mike Hogan alternated. The judges were Bob Fraser and Leyschock and Hogan alternating. The time-piece was watched by Billy Fazzone and the announcer, was Charles Walters. Tommy Leach was the matchmaker, and Jefferson A. C., promoter. Anthony DeAndrea represented the State Athletic commission.

Nine hundred and seventy-four paid fans witnessed the bouts. The next attraction will be an amateur show, three weeks from last night.

Projector, Films On Paralysis Are Stolen From Auto

Appeal To Decency Of Meaneat Thief To Return Films Used In Paralysis Battle

MEDIA, Pa., Jan. 8.—(INS)—Even a thief, no matter how mean he might be, no matter how evil, would be stirred by the plight of little children bravely struggling to overcome infantile paralysis.

And, however stone-hearted he might be, it is doubtful that he would hinder those little ones in their battle against the scourge that has stricken them.

That's what Ruth A. Palmer, executive secretary of the Delaware County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is banking on today in the hope that five rolls of movie film stolen from her car would be returned.

The film, along with a projector and other equipment, was taken from her automobile in Springfield township last night. The reels were shot of Delaware county children, victims of the disease, being taught to swim, and other activities to aid them.

Miss Palmer said they couldn't be replaced and that the films have been booked for showings every night for the next three weeks to various groups in quest for donations for the March of Dimes campaign.

"If we can only get them back, we will ask no questions," she said. "We make this appeal hoping there is in the heart of whoever took the projector and the films a soft spot for children. Please send back our films to us at the county building at Media."

Federal Reserve Banks Net Profit Increases In 1947

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Federal Reserve Board estimated that Federal Reserve banks in 1947 showed a net profit of 95 million dollars—3 million dollars above the previous year.

The board said "preliminary figures" indicate that earnings amounted to 158 million dollars with expenses totaling 65 million.

The board observed: "After adding profits on sales of government securities and deducting noncurrent charges, net earnings for the year amounted to 95 million dollars."

The board said that from the profit, the Federal Reserve banks paid 12 million dollars in dividends to their member banks and 75 million dollars to the treasury as interest on outstanding Federal Reserve notes.

Transfers to surplus amounted to about 8 million dollars.

EGGS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 8.—Although the margin of possible profit to farmers dropped to the lowest ever known in the state for any month due to increased feed costs and lower prices, Pennsylvania farm flocks last month contained the highest numbers on record for any November and produced a total of 218 million eggs, the State Department of Agriculture announced today. The total set a new record for the month of November.

Some States Are Seeking D. P's

CHICAGO (INS)—A movement to re-populate fertile farmlands in north-central states with close to 100,000 displaced Europeans is gaining momentum daily in the various states.

North Dakota already has made a survey of rural jobs and housing facilities available for such homeless Europeans and a similar study is being made in Minnesota. Iowa is about to begin one. South Dakota, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Montana shortly will follow suit.

The project has the support of the U. S. State department and the Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons. It also has been approved by the Catholic Hierarchy, the National Rural Life Conference, the National Lutheran Council and many other Protestant denominations.

Edwin R. Armstrong of New York City, representative of the Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons, reported that the displaced Europeans could be settled with relatives or others of the same national background and religious affiliations.

Armstrong explained that all of the refugees could be screened thoroughly by the Army, church, and welfare agencies. He asserted that all would have to meet health requirements of the immigration laws.

It has been estimated that the seven north-central states have suffered a population loss of 195,000 persons in the last six years. This has been due mainly to the fact that rural young people have migrated almost entirely elsewhere.

The average age of farmers now working on the land is 60 years. Empty farm houses dot the area and farm work goes undone because of a labor shortage.

Armstrong declared: "Displaced persons would live, by invitation, where there already is room for them and jobs waiting."

Armstrong blamed what he termed "city thinking" for any existing resentment of the project. He declared the displaced persons will do a hard type of farm work and manual labor which Americans don't want to do.

Armstrong said that as most of the D.P.'s cannot speak English, they can't compete with the American white-collar class.

All of the refugees will be rugged specimens as they must be to have survived European difficulties.

IN THE OPEN

Intermittent snow squalls marched across the countryside, pushed by a spanking breeze which cleared the skies to dazzling brightness between the ponderous cloud masses. The outdoorsman parked his car beside the country roadway and stepped out into winter woodslands newly carpeted in spotless white. Far through the trees stretched this inviting carpet, marked only by the quivering tracks of a pair of hunting dogs who had passed that way earlier in the day.

The outdoorsman followed the course of a small brook, which in its exuberance had here and there burst through its sheath of ice and snow. At each of these dark openings the scrubbed stream bed lay clearly revealed through the limpid water. The snow story indicated where a deer mouse had come out from his nest beneath some matted roots and had crossed and recrossed the brook on the ice bridge right at his doorstep.

Back Into Deeper Woods A short distance down stream this brook is joined by a companion, which drains the main body of this piece of timberland and breaks out into the valley through a "draw" in the hills. At this point the countryman turned back into the deeper woods, following a fresh trail laid down apparently by youthful trappers inspecting bait sets and deadfalls.

Cottontail and squirrel tracks were much in evidence, indicating that some of these little people have weathered the recent shotgun barrage. A fox had passed through the woods, his precise, careful trail crossing the brook at three points. He had apparently been scouting the possibilities at a henhouse on a neighboring farm, for his trail finally veered off on a quivering approach to the farm buildings.

A nervous little bird, dark and with a quite stubby excuse for a tail, darted beneath the tangled branches of a wind-fallen water elm. In a fast five-minute game of hide and seek the little fellow bobbed up in the most unexpected places and as quickly disappeared again in the matted tangle. Finally he came out and settled on a stubby branch long enough to identify himself as the Winter wren, a hardy citizen, even tinier than the common house wren.

Holiday Decorations The woodlands were now without their own holiday decorations. A large colony of the evergreen Christmas fern has established headquarters on a wide sloping bank edging the brook. Spotted about with Nature's artistry against the white background were many of these green fronds. Almost in the exact center of this bank stands a rotting stub-stump perhaps four feet high. A baker's dozen of the large bracket fungi have moved in on this stump, and were quite decorative as seen from the down-hill angle. Here in the depths of the brooding winter woods was a natural arrangement far better balanced and more effective than any artificial flummery.

There are many tall trim beech trees in this timberland. The countryman holds these gray patriarchs in high esteem and is conscious of an instinctive awareness of kinship with the ancient tree worshippers as he walks among these graybeards "standing like Druids of old in the twilight". Many of these trees bear carved autographs cut there years ago by eager youngsters. The countryman wonders how many of those hands lie idle now, though still remembered so long as the timber stands in that quiet woodland.

The outdoor picture contains many delicate traceries which are only to be seen when the snow carpet lies warm and white across the ground. Where the juncoes and tree sparrows have been feeding the snow is scintillated with their beautiful fugitive trails. Many of the fruit-laden weed stalks hold their heads above the snow, revealing a striking design pattern. Vervain is one of these, and some of the taller mints, and the sweet cicely.

As the old year finishes the course and a lusty youngster picks up the pace, the countryman finds himself emulating Janus, the two-headed Roman god who looked both into the past and the future, and for whom our first month is named. A long and wistful backward look calls to mind pleasant days astream, with the trout rising and the painted trillium nodding on the mountain-side. Many other red-letter days pass in review, when the very sang at the bog's edge, the gentian bloomed in the upland marsh, and the cedarbirds held Quaker meeting in the apple-sauce tree.

To the man who walks the way-side trails the future is always out front and always exciting. Perhaps this will be the year he'll find that hummingbird's nest. This may be the year he'll take that big brownie from the long pool below the old mill dam. Who knows?
